LAST WORD OF BERLIN.

Peace or War Up to Mr. Wilson.

"We'll Carry the Submarine Policy Through to End," Says Zimmermann.

Germans Warn Neutrals that They Must Keep All Their Ships at Home.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) March 9.—Dutch newspapers publish the following statement made by Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, the German Foreign Secretary, to a representative of a Budapest newspaper:

"As far as the United States is concerned, we have spoken our last word and the decision is in President Wilson's hands.

"We are determined to carry through the submarine war to the end. The results of unrestricted submarine warfare thus far have been very satisfactory.

"As to peace, I may say that despite the refusal of our peace offer Germany still stands by the words of the Imperial Chancellor and is prepared to place herself at the head of an alliance of states for the maintenance of the world's peace.

"As to European neutrals, I believe there will be no change in their present relations with us in the course of the war. Neutral shipping should give up their trade with England. They have made much money and can afford to bear the loss of English trade. They will soon recognize that it is to their interests to keep their ships at home so they may use them to the best advantage after the war."

Dr. Zimmermann added the military situation is entirely satisfactory to Germany.

LIFE POLICY FOR MORGAN.

New York Banker Applies for Two and a Half Millions Insurance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 9.—J. P. Morgan, is was learned today, has made application for $2,500,000 life insurance, which would be the largest policy ever written under one name. It was understood the risk would be distributed among several companies and that the insurance was intended to protect Mr. Morgan's partners in their mutual business interests as well as for the bankers' personal protection. One of Mr. Morgan's purposes in taking out the insurance policy, it was learned, is to recompense his heirs for the amount which will be deducted from his estate because of the State inheritance tax.

PACIFIST POSTCARD BARRED FROM MAILS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—A pacifist postcard headed "American University bulletin," mailed in large numbers in New York has been barred from the mails by the Postoffice Department under the sections of the Criminal Code prohibiting anything tending to incite arson, murder, anarchy or assassination, and anything bearing an inscription detrimental to the character of any one. American University officials here complained the card was not issued by the university and they had no knowledge of it.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

Bitter fighting has taken place in Champagne, with the French withstanding German attacks and taking further trenches, says the latest French official communication. Between Butte du Mesnil and Maisons de Champagne, French troops took prisoners and made further gains north of the road running between the two places. The number of Germans taken by the French in the past two days in this region now totals 170. Three violent attacks were launched by the Germans in the Maisons de Champagne sector. The German efforts failed, Paris says. German trenches on Height 185 and at Maisons de Champagne Berlin reports, were entered by the French in their attacks, but the positions later were regained, except for a farm near Height 185. Increased artillery action in the Champagne region is also announced by Berlin.

Evidence of the restoration of harmonious American relations with Mexico is seen in the review of American cavalry at Fort Bliss yesterday at which were present, as guests of Gen. Bell, the Carranza commander in Northern Mexico, accompanied by other officials of the de facto government. Incidentally, it is regarded as improbable that Villa has captured Durango, as asserted by one of his juntas this side of the border.

NAVY HEAD AS CENSOR

Daniels Appeals to the Press.

"Don't Print Details of the Arming of Vessels," Advice to Newspapers.

Secretary Makes Clear Nation is Prepared to Protect Our Rights at Sea.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Lacking legal authority to establish general censorship, the administration tonight appealed to the patriotism of the country's newspapers and cable companies to suppress information about the movements of American merchant craft, now to be armed against German submarines.

"The best news that readers can have," said Secretary Daniels in a formal statement, "is that the government will protect the rights of Americans to the freedom of the seas. The publication of details can serve no good purpose and might jeopardize human life."

Mr. Daniels has determined not to reveal any of the department's plans for carrying out the policy ordered by President Wilson. He previously has stated, however, that the navy is prepared with guns, ammunition and gun crews to carry out the instructions.

RANGE OF GUNS.

Navy yard commandants will superintend the actual installation of guns on merchant craft. The rifles, already stored at the yards, range from heavy six-inch to three-inch weapons and smaller guns. The number of guns to go on each ship, the personnel selected from the active list of the navy or from the reserve to handle the guns, the time of sailing or the names of ships that have been armed will not be disclosed.

DANIELS'S STATEMENT.

Secretary Daniels in his statement to newspaper men said:

"You have read the statement issued from the White House and now you know that the President has the power to arm American merchant ships making trips on the seas on lawful errands, and is free to exercise it at once. I do not think you ought to ask with what guns they will be armed or how they will be manned or exactly when the power will be exercised. The government should be trusted fully to carry out the policy announced in the best way.

"I do not think you ought to ask when the ships will be armed or print when they will sail. Today I requested every cable company in America not to send out any news about ships sailing to or from Europe. The wireless stations are under the direction of the Navy Department and no news of sailings will go out by radio.

DEPARTMENT'S REQUEST.

"I am going to request you and every newspaper and every news agency in the United States not to print any news about the arrival of ships or when any of them will sail for European ports. There is no power of censorship in our country. The President does not have any authority over the press. In this time of national emergency, I feel sure that every newspaper will accede to the request not to give even a hint of speculation of the sailing of American ships. Such publication might result in the loss of life. As the reasons are so obvious for making this request there is confidence in administration circles that this request will be complied with by every paper in the country.

"All patriotic Americans are ready to make a sacrifice for their country in times of emergency. The press can render the highest patriotic service by refraining from printing at this time what ordinarily they would freely print.

TO PROTECT LIVES.

"Inasmuch as it will be impossible to reach every paper and news agency directly, I will ask all papers to carry this request which is made as an appeal to patriotism to all journalists and disseminators of news. The best news the readers can have is that the government will protect the rights of America to the freedom of the seas. The publication of details can serve no good purpose and might jeopardize human life. All readers surely will applaud the papers in responding to this appeal."

With the departure of the first armed American ship, the Navy Department must instruct gun crews whether the appearance of a submarine is sufficient warrant for opening fire. Officials would not discuss this aspect of the situation, which involves a declaration of policy. It will not take more than a few days to outfit any ship. Contracts for additional guns of suitable size are being speeded up.

DETROIT ELEVATOR BURNS.

DETROIT (Mich.) March 9.—A spectacular fire, caused, it is believed, by spontaneous combustion today, destroyed the grain elevator of the Detroit Railroad Elevator Company. Adjoining buildings and valuable railroad property also were damaged. The total loss has been estimated at more than $1,000,000.

Almost the Same as War.

Guarding the Hoosac tunnel.

At the Hoosac tunnel, on the Boston and Maine Railroad, in the western part of Massachusetts, through which most of the freight from the west has to pass, the officials of Massachusetts have stationed soldiers of the second regiment to guard the tunnel against damage by cranks. The Hoosac tunnel is the largest and most important one in New England, it being four and three-quarter miles long. The troops are also stationed on the bridge over the Deerfoot River, at the entrance of the Hoosac tunnel, near North Adams, Mass. The insert picture is a view of the entrance to the tunnel. Troops are seen on guard at the entrance. The other shows how the engines that draw trains through the tunnel have to be guarded to insure safety against plots.

UNITED STATES ARMED NEUTRALITY MAY QUICKLY BECOME ACTIVE WAR.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Armed neutrality will be the status of the United States when the first American merchant ship puts to sea armed for defense. President Wilson made this clear when he asked Congress for specific authority to equip merchant ships to repel submarines—the step he ordered today upon his own responsibility.

Writers on international law have held that armed neutrality consists in preparing the country to defend itself and its neutrality against threatened attacks or inroads by belligerents. This state of preparedness may last indefinitely through good fortune in avoiding contact with belligerent forces afloat or ashore, or through the design of the belligerent to confine its declaration of purpose to infringe the neutrality of a country to mere threats unsupported by action.

On the other hand the status of armed neutrality may change into one of actual hostility through a collision—such as a submarine attack on an armed merchantman.

President Wilson has said that it may not be necessary to put armed forces anywhere into action. All will depend on Germany.

In his address to Congress the President said: "I am not now proposing or contemplating war or any steps that lead to it. I merely request that you will accord me the means and the authority to safeguard in practice the right of a great people who are at peace and who are desirous of exercising none but the rights of peace, to follow the pursuit of peace in quietness and good will."

April Sixteenth.

SPECIAL SESSION IS CALLED; BOTH PARTIES WELL PLEASED.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Leaders of both parties in Congress greeted with approval President Wilson's call for a special session of the Sixty-fifth Congress on April 16.

There has been a feeling evident that Congress should be in Washington when the President takes any step further in the German situation.

The length of the special session, the legislation it will enact and the debates that may mark its progress will depend largely on three factors—just what legislation the President expects, what results from the arming of American merchant ships and the way the new House of Representatives conducts itself with its evenly-balanced membership.

The Democrats control the new Senate by twelve votes, and, despite its bitter debates on international problems and its failure to pass the armed neutrality bill, it can be safely counted upon to stand behind the President in almost anything he asks in handling the German situation. The little group of pacifists are still there, but their power to defeat legislation would be negligible in a session that might last until December, even without the modified cloture rule which the Senate adopted yesterday.

SITUATION IN HOUSE.

The new House might organize Democratic or Republican, or an effort might be made to effect a coalition organization, but its leaders say it will make little difference which party controls when it comes to in-

WILSON ISSUES ORDER FOR ARMED NEUTRALITY

Protection of Americans at Sea to be Government's Main Policy.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Wilson, from a sick bed, today ordered the arming of American merchant ships against Germany's submarine warfare, and at the same time issued a proclamation calling an extra session of Congress to meet April 16.

The President's decision came suddenly late this afternoon, following the action of the Senate yesterday in revising its rules to permit prompt action on important questions and the submission of formal opinions by Secretary Lansing and Atty.-Gen. Gregory that he has the power to arm merchantmen without action by Congress.

Details of the government's armed neutrality plans for defending the merchant marine were withheld to avoid endangering Americans and their ships by permitting the information to reach Germany. The only statement at the White House and the Navy Department was that the President was determined to protect American rights.

HAILED AS UNAVOIDABLE.

The decision, coming at the end of a period of tense waiting, was generally hailed as the unavoidable next step in the policy adopted by the President when he broke diplomatic relations with Germany and gave warning that the United States could not tolerate attacks on American ships and citizens in violation of international law.

Fraught with grave possibilities of war with Germany, the action was taken by President Wilson only after he was convinced Germany actually was proceeding with her submarine campaign and had made efforts to plot with Mexico and Japan against the territorial integrity of the United States.

Long before the order was given from the White House all necessary preparations for the arming of merchantmen had been completed at the Navy Department. Secretary Daniels, however, issued an appeal to the press of the nation to refrain from discussing these preparations.

The President's action sent a thrill through the Senate, meeting in special session, and through the government departments. Still hoping war with Germany will be avoided, officials and Senators declared the issue rests entirely with Germany.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Formal announcement of the government's policy was given in the following statement issued from the White House:

"Secretary Tumulty stated in connection with the President's call for an extra session of Congress that the President is convinced that he has the power to arm American merchant ships and is free to exercise it at once. But so much necessary legislation is pressing for consideration that he is convinced that it is for the best interests of the country to have an early session of the Sixty-fifth Congress, whose support he will also need in all matters collateral to the defense of our merchant marine."

SIGNS CALL IN BED.

The President signed the proclamation calling the extra session of Congress and authorized the publication of the explantory statement with Secretary Tumulty standing at his bedside. A severe cold has kept him from seeing callers for three days and he was sent to bed by his physicians yesterday.

In deciding that he has power to arm merchantmen the President took the position that an old statute passed in 1819, cited in the Senate debate as prohibiting such a step without Congressional action, has no application to the present situation. He is satisfied that the nation stands behind him and accepts the overwhelming vote in the House on the armed neutrality bill and the known opinion of a large majority of the Senate as proof of the attitude of Congress.

Although the bill which failed of passage in the Senate provided for a bond issue of $100,000,000 to pay the expenses of armed neutrality, the government has sufficient money available for its immediate purposes. Congress will be asked to provide more when the extra session convenes.

Under a bill passed during the last days of the last Congress the funds at the disposal of the Federal War Risk Bureau to insure American ships was increased to $15,000,000.

Armed neutrality is expected to remove the practical blockade of American ports and place the issue of eventual war squarely upon Germany. An attack upon an armed American vessel will precipitate a fight if the ship gets sight of the submarine, and an unwarned attack would be regarded by the United States as an act of war.

CENTRAL POWERS' ACTION.

Germany and Austria both have declared armed merchantmen war vessels. These declarations were based largely, however, upon the charge that British merchant ships used their armament offensively, and it remains to be seen whether Germany will so class and treat American craft with defensive arms.

The whole German press comment and unofficial utterances since the question was raised in this country has indicated the conviction that any armed vessel should be considered hostile and sunk in the same way as a belligerent war vessel. There has been no official expression on the subject.

SHIP POLICY NOT CLEAR.

Germany's exact policy toward American vessels sailing through the war zone since its proclamation February 1 has not been quite clear, owing to the fact that less than a dozen such voyages have been made and it is possible all the vessels that escaped succeeded in avoiding the submarines entirely. It has been suggested that Germany probably issued instructions to her commanders not to sink American ships without every precaution for those on board, as a last hope of keeping America out of the war. The ruthless destruction of passenger liners like the California and Laconia, however, is felt here to render this belief improbable. The effect of America's action upon other neutral nations will be awaited with keen interest. Vessels of those countries, too, have been heading to port through terror of the German menace.

The throttling of neutral shipping both British and German experts have stated to be the most serious result of the German campaign to date and has exceeded in effect the actual amount of tonnage destroyed. Several German authorities have indicated that so long as they could terrorize neutral vessels and continue their attrition on British shipping the eventual starvation of England was certain.

Plot.

GERMANS GUILTY OF SINKING SHIP.

OFFICERS AND MEN WILL BE SENTENCED TODAY.

Members of Crew of Liebenfels, Which Went Down in Charleston Harbor, Convicted After Trial in the United States Court at Florence, S. C.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FLORENCE (S. C.) March 9.—Eight officers and men of the German Hansa line freight steamer Liebenfels, which began sinking in Charleston Harbor on the night of January 31, were found guilty of sinking the vessel in a navigable stream by a jury in the United States District Court here late today. They were acquitted, however, on one count charging conspiracy to sink the steamer.

Capt. Johann R. Klattenhoff, master of the Liebenfels, was the only one of the indicted men whose trial was postponed. He is ill in Charleston.

Sentence will be pronounced tomorrow.

The convicted men are Johann Lubken, chief officer; George Sunkel, third officer; Jonas Edward Jansen, chief engineer; Heinrich Wattenburg, assistant engineer; Johann Wilhelm Buse, second assistant engineer; Moritz von Thalen, third assistant engineer; August Neuse, fourth assistant engineer, and Wilhelm Schwarting, machinist.

All are Germans except Jansen, who is a Danish subject. Several of the men are German naval reservists.

Counsel for the defense argued the men should not be punished, intimating they were only carrying out orders. The defense offered no testimony, but after conviction made a motion for a new trial, which was denied.

NORWEGIAN VESSEL REACHES NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The Norwegian passenger steamship Bergensfjord from Bergen, Norway, by way of Halifax, arrived here today in ballast. The Bergensfjord is the first ship from Norway to arrive since the German submarine blockade was announced. Officers of the ship said that, under orders from their owners, they sailed without passengers, cargo or mails, leaving in Bergen hundreds of persons, many of whom were Americans anxious to come to the United States.

Kirkwall, until recently the designated British port of call for neutral ships, was avoided, a northerly course enabling the ship to avoid the danger zone and, in accordance with arrangements made with Great Britain, the vessel put in at Halifax. There she was delayed three days pending an examination of crew and ship. No passengers are being booked for the return voyage.

Mayor Gill Puts Four Thousand Dollars Cash in His Pocket, Bootlegger Tells Ju

Ramifications.

MINISTER IS INVOLVED IN SEATTLE GRAFT CASE.

Government Springs Main Sensation in Liquor Conspiracy Trial.

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 9.—"The Chief of Police left his office. I reached into my pocket; took out $4000 in currency and laid it on the desk where the Mayor was sitting. He picked it up and put it into his pocket."

Thus did Logan Billingsley tell the jury and a breathless, straining crowd in Federal Court today that he bribed Mayor H. C. Gill on August 30, 1916, to dismiss city cases pending against him and his brothers and surrender incriminating evidence which had been seized July 26 in a police raid on the Night and Day Drug Store.

It was the big moment in the story of the government's chief witness in the booze-graft conspiracy trial of Gill, Chief Beckingham, Sheriff Hodge and City Detectives Peyser, Poolman, Doom and McLennan.

Rioting that for a time threatened to reach serious proportions started in the corridors this afternoon when deputy United States marshals, reinforced by a large squad of police, attempted to force back a crowd of several hundred persons eager to hear the case.

Two women swooned and were carried into the Marshal's office. Police and deputy marshals forcibly ejected many persons who resisted their efforts to press them back. Order was not restored until the court ordered the doors closed.

TELLS STRAIGHT STORY.

Billingsley told the circumstances of his alleged bribery in the matter-of-fact manner and voice he has used since his indictments and arrest shortly before Christmas.

He leaned forward and talked directly to the jury. He used the index finger of his right hand to motion in emphasis as he talked.

"I felt sure since the 7th of August that my cases with the city would be compromised," he testified. "My attorney, George Vanderveer, had discussed compromise with the Mayor and told me that they could be compromised.

"I went to San Francisco to arrange for carload shipments of liquor as soon as I got the cases dismissed. I returned to Seattle August 27. Before that I had discussed with my attorney the probable cost of getting the cases dropped. In fact I had agreed to pay $7500.

"I even tried to get him to attend to the details, only bothering me to pay the cost. He refused and said that any such personal expense I would have to attend to.

"Finally, when he had assured me that the chances of settling the case were good I went to the Washington Annex and got $4000 from the safe there and returned alone between 2 and 3 o'clock to the police station. The Mayor was there. We all had a visit. The Mayor treated me mighty decent. He didn't show any of the feeling toward me that he had shown after the Weedin shooting.

"PAID WRONG CONDUCTOR."

"Finally, the Chief left the office. The Mayor told me that he knew I had been paying Detective Peyser. 'You have been paying the wrong conductor,' he told me.

"I can't remember the exact words I used, but I gave him to understand that I wanted to know who the right conductor was. I took $4000 in currency out of my pocket, laid it on the desk where the Mayor sat and he put it in his pocket."

Neither Mayor Gill nor Chief Beckingham changed expression or position at this stage of Billingsley's recital.

"The Chief returned and the Mayor told him that they were going to be my friends and for him to get my papers. The Chief told him that there was a subpoena for the papers. 'To hell with that,' the Mayor said.

"The Chief said Prosecutor Lundin had asked for them in a State case.

"'To hell with Lundin,' the Mayor said. Then an officer, who, I think, was named Sullivan, was called in and told to get the papers.

"He reported later that Sergt. Putnam had them and refused to surrender them. He was sent back and finally came with them."

Selling whisky to "the best people" in town and to leading drug stores and hotels, in wholesale lots, was the quick turn his bootlegging business took after his "compromise" with Mayor Gill August 30, Logan Billingsley testified.

MINISTER INVOLVED.

The name of Dr. Mark Matthews, prominent minister, was brought into the testimony when Billingsley stated that Dr. Matthews knew of the Gill bribe, and threatened him with indictments by the Federal grand jury if he didn't "come through" with a confession. This explains the subpoena of the local minister earlier in the week.

Billingsley testified that he warned Gill that the clergyman was "double-crossing" him, and repeated to Gill the threat that Matthews had made. Gill, according to the witness, told him not to worry about the county grand jury because it never indicted any offenders except little ones.

He was asked why he had telegraphed to San Francisco, asking for shipment of fifty-gallon barrels instead of forty-gallon barrels, and explained that as he was obliged to pay $10 for each barrel to the water-front detective squad, he saved money by getting the larger barrels.

Billingsley swore that when he proposed payment to Mayor Gill of a sum of money monthly for protection the Mayor said he did not care to do business in that way. "I want mine in a lump sum," Billingsley swore the Mayor said.

Collision.

SIX HUNDRED DROWN AS TRANSPORT SINKS.

LONDON, March 9.—The British transport Mendi, carrying South African native laborers, was sunk after a collision on February 21 and 625 persons lost their lives. Ten of the persons lost were Europeans, according to the announcement today to the South African Parliament by Gen. Louis Botha, the Premier. The official communication says:

"Premier Botha stated to the South African Parliament today that the transport Mendi, carrying the last batch of the South African native laborers' contingent (the rest of whom were landed safely in France) collided with another vessel en route from England to Havre and sank in twenty-five minutes. The collision occurred off the Isle of Wight February 21. The escort's searchlight could not penetrate the fog, but the survivors were rescued by passing vessels. Twelve European officers and 191 natives were saved. Ten Europeans and 615 natives were lost.

"Difficulty in obtaining authentic information caused the delay in making the announcement public. Premier Botha added that the magistrates and native commissioners have been instructed to inform the chiefs, head men and people so that they might know the truth and not heed idle and mischievous stories, which experience proved might be circulated sedulously."

The Mendi was a British steamer of 4230 tons gross, built in Glasgow in 1905, and owned by the British and African Steam Navigation Company of Liverpool (the Elder Dempster Company.) The last entry in shipping records regarding her movements was on December 27 last, when she was reported arriving at Port Natal from Dar-es-Salaam.

CORROBORATIVE EVIDENCE.

The Times' Persistent, Year-in-and-Year-out Advertising Supremacy Again Demonstrated.

The volume of advertising printed in The Times last Sunday, compared with the corresponding Sunday of 1916, shows a splendid gain of 1422 inches.

In total advertising Sunday, The Times led the second morning newspaper 3808 inches and the third morning newspaper 6743 inches.

In classified, or "Liner," advertising alone The Times of Sunday led its nearest local contemporary 1646 inches and the second nearest contemporary 2954 inches, the combined volume of the second and third papers being 942 inches less than the total printed in The Times alone.

A total of 8056 separate "Liner," or classified, advertisements were printed in Sunday's Times, which is 3457 more than were printed in the second newspaper, 6841 more than were printed in the third newspaper, and 2242 more than were printed in the second and third papers combined.

The Times of Sunday also contained a much greater volume of mercantile, automobile and real estate advertising than any other Los Angeles newspaper.

The secret of The Times' enormous advertising business is that The Times high-class circulation—circulation that is delivered direct to the "worth-while" homes—gives advertisers known buying ability in addition to sales volume.

The circulation of Sunday's Times was in excess of 114,000, or 7000 in excess of the corresponding Sunday of 1916.

The Times not only leads all other Los Angeles newspapers as regards the number of pages of news and advertising it regularly prints, but it leads in editorial and news excellence, in prestige and influence, and it is the one newspaper in Southern California through which local and foreign advertisers can cover this rich and productive territory at the right proportion of cost to results.

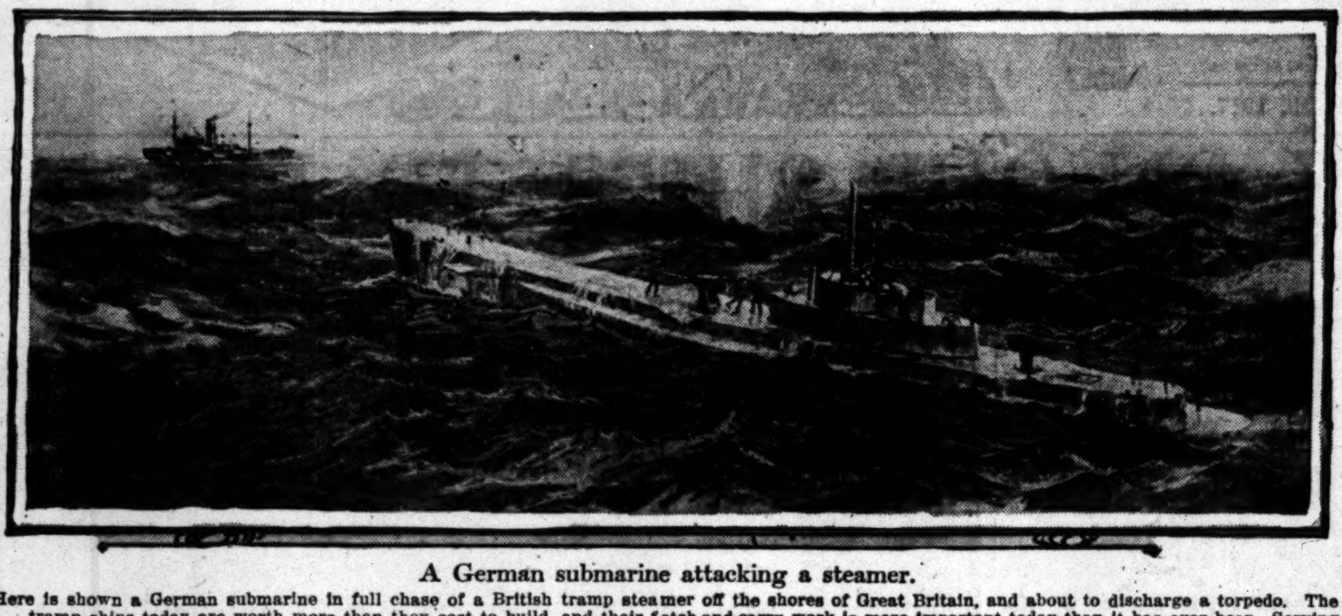
How German U-boats Chase Merchant Ships.



A German submarine attacking a steamer.

Here is shown a German submarine in full chase of a British tramp steamer off the shores of Great Britain, and about to discharge a torpedo. The tramp ships today are worth more than they cost to build, and their fetch-and-carry work is more important today than it has ever been. Serving in these tramps are men heroic in their way as any soldier or sailor, but whereas the man of the navy and army have weapons placed in their hands to defend themselves and hit back, the majority of tramp steamers have had to go unarmed, and many a man has had to go out with the knowledge in the back of his head that he may never return. PEACE PREDICTED BY BRITISH POET.

THINKS IT SURE IF AMERICA CONVOYS SHIPS.

Alfred Noyes Declares Such an Action on Part of United States Government will Remove Germany's Last Hope of Victory in European War.

PRINCETON (N. J.) March 9.—"Peace will shortly ensue," according to Alfred Noyes, the British poet, who is to lecture on English at Princeton University, "if Americans should decide to send ships across the Atlantic and convoy them. I believe firmly that that would remove Germany's last hope of victory," continued Mr. Noyes, who was in the war zone for nine months before coming to Princeton.

"I think that the offensive in the spring will determine the outcome of the war on land, but if not, the Allies will continue fighting to the end. At the present time my country has more officers than there were men in the British army before hostilities began. The number of men now working in the aviation corps is about equivalent to the number of officers. It seems almost incredible that the army, since the beginning of the war, has increased from 300,000 to between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000.

"The formation of a giant organization could not have been brought about in a week or a month. The early German campaign and her recent defiance of America were due to the Kaiser's knowledge that the great English army was about ready to strike."

NEW YORK, March 9.—Investigation of the absence of children from several of the city's schools has disclosed that some of the pupils are earning large salaries for acting at moving picture studios in New Jersey, it developed in court today when the Board of Education instituted legal action against the children's parents. One woman received $50 a day for the services of six children, according to the investigators, and other boys and girls are earning from $60 to $75 a week.

Margaret Hicks of Cleveland, admitting in court that her 12-year-old daughter Maxine had been away from school here for twenty-nine days, said the child was receiving $75 a week. Upon her promise to have a private tutor instruct the girl the case was put over until March 30.

HOOSIERS BAR SUNDAY SHOWS.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 9.—Gov. James G. Goodrich today vetoed the bill which would have legalized the operation of motion-picture shows on Sunday in Indiana. This action was taken after the Governor had signed the bill yesterday, and was due to the fact that it was discovered that a clause which would have prohibited the opening of the picture shows before 2 p.m., had been omitted from the engrossed bill. This had been one of the features insisted on by the Governor.

ARMED SHIPS BARRED FROM DUTCH HARBORS

BERLIN, March 9 (by wireless to Sayville.)—"The British merchant steamer Princess Melita was refused permission to enter the harbor at Rotterdam on Tuesday because she was armed," says the Overseas News Agency (the official German News bureau.) She left that evening and returned to Rotterdam the next day after throwing overboard her gun and its mounting.

"The Nieuwe Rottredamsche Courant says that in the week from February 25 to March 3, only seven ships arrived in Rotterdam harbor as compared with fifty-seven in the corresponding week last year and 197 in that week in 1914. The Handelsblad says that in that week only five ships arrived at Amsterdam compared with twenty-six last year."

MEXICANS GUESTS OF GEN. BELL AT REVIEW.

Biggest American Cavalry Maneuvers Since Civil War Days, Held at Fort Bliss, are Witnessed by Carranza's Commander in the North—Capture of Durango by Villa Discounted—National Elections Tomorrow.

FORT BLISS (Tex.) March 9.—Gen. Jablo Gonzalez, of the Carranza army of the north, was the guest of Brig.-Gen. George Bell at a review of the cavalry division of the El Paso district here today. Accompanied by his staff and by Andres Garcia, inspector-general of Mexican consulates, Gen. Gonzalez was met at the international bridge by Capt. Nicholas Campanole of Gen. Bell's staff.

The division was commanded by Brig.-Gen. Eben Swift and was said to have been the largest body of United States cavalry assembled since the Civil War. Following the review Capt. Kirby made a flight over the fort in an army airplane and then departed for Columbus, N. M.

Brig.-Gen. Jose Carlos Murguia, the Juarez commander, was unable to attend the review, being in the field with his troops.

DURANGO SHOWN NOT TAKEN.

JUAREZ (Mex.) March 9.—It was announced at military headquarters here that a message had been received today from Durango city. This was considered proof that the reported capture of that city by Villa forces is untrue. It was said here Villa was at Rosario, Durango, recently with 900 men. There are 6000 de facto troops in Torreon, it was added, and no attack was expected.

FIND AMMUNITION CACHE.

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) March 9.—A large quantity of hidden Villa ammunition was found by the de facto troops following the battle of Cusihuiriachic, Chihuahua. A prisoner captured by the Carranza forces during the battle, revealed the hiding place of the ammunition in return for a pardon. The cache contained several thousand rifle cartridges and artillery shells, according to an official report received here.

Reports from the Guerrero district of West Chihuahua say the Villa forces have become badly disorganized because of the absence of Villa from the field and the lack of leadership in his absence.

Ammunition has been received here from Mexico City by Gen. Murguia and 20,000 rounds were sent north to supply the de facto troops in the field near Casas Grandes.

Two thousand government troops from Sonora, including a large number of Yaqui Indians, have reached Casas Grandes, having marched overland from the interior of Sonora.

CARRANZA AT QUERETARO.

QUERETARO (Mex.) March 9.—Gen. Carranza is expected to reach Queretaro today or tomorrow. He will remain here over Sunday, when the national elections are to be held. He was joined yesterday by the American Ambassador, Henry P. Fletcher; the Chilean Minister, Edmonte Ajacio, and the former Ambassador at Washington, Eliseo Arredondo; Ygnacio Bonillas, the new Ambassador to Washington, and Foreign Secretary Aguillar. Subsequently they took a special train for Mexico City.

AMERICANS LEAVE TORREON.

EL PASO, March 9.—Villa partisans here claim Villa has captured Durango city, the capital of the State of Durango, and has started a march on Torreon. They say he has recruited his force to 3000, many of Gen. Gabriel Gavira's de facto forces at Durango city having joined Villa, according to the Villa junta here. This information was obtained in a letter from Torreon, the Villa sympathizers say.

Other reports say Americans are leaving Torreon for fear of another Villa attack. Military authorities here received information last week that Villa had gone to the State of Durango.

BORDER CONDITIONS BETTER.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 9.—Border conditions in the lower Rio Grande Valley are better than they have been at any time for the last two years, according to Maj.-Gen. J. J. He said the people on both sides of the border seem anxious to restore friendly relations and forget trouble of the past.

JOINT HIGH COMMISSION, PLAN OF PACIFISTS.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A resolution advocating the appointment of a "joint high commission" to endeavor to settle the questions at issue between our government and Germany was adopted at a mass meeting here tonight under the auspices of the Emergency Peace Federation. Another resolution called upon President Wilson "to summon all the great powers to discuss plans for organized and continuous peaceful relations between nations."

A message was read from William J. Bryan in which he said he did not believe the government should arm vessels carrying munitions.

"If the question was submitted to the American people," he said, "an overwhelming majority would, in my judgment, favor keeping Americans off belligerent ships and would also exclude arms and ammunition from all American and neutral ships carrying passengers from the United States to Europe."

PRINT PAPER PRICES DEPEND ON ECONOMY.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—News print paper price arbitration, undertaken by the Federal Trade Commission, will succeed, in the opinion of the commission, only if publishers practice the closest economies in the use of paper. Blank agreement forms sent to publishers throughout the country today inform them that to benefit by the price fixing plan they must not only consent to relinquish 5 per cent. of their paper requirements, but must agree to discontinue return privileges and must buy additional paper only to meet the most urgent needs.

The commission expects to go ahead with its plans as soon as enough publishers come into the arrangement to make it practicable. The price fixing proposal, as advanced by manufacturers, will be operative for six months. The commission has set a price of $2.50, but in its notice to publishers says this price will be tried first for three months and then if found too low will be re-adjusted.

To insure that small publishers get paper, the commission is working on a plan under which manufacturers will sell to them first the paper released by large publishers.

DIAMOND GARTERS NOT QUITE INVISIBLE

INDIANA WOMAN JARS THE BLASE PEACOCK ALLEY.

Attired in Harmonious Simplicity, a Three-piece Suit, a String of Pearls and Her Carbon Jewels, She Shows New York Some Style.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—Wearing diamond earrings, diamond pendants and diamond garters, Mrs. Charles H. Anthony of Muncie, Ind., startled the loiterers in Peacock Alley at the Waldorf today. Mrs. Anthony is a pretty blonde woman with a passion for diamonds and a habit of descending upon New York every once in so often to let them shine.

Her attire struck that note of harmonious simplicity upon which our leading fashion writers harp. She wore a three-piece suit, a string of pearls and some diamonds. The skirt was white silk or velvet, or sateen or some shimmery stuff. She also wore a white straw hat and some diamonds; a white silk shirtwaist cut low and some diamonds; a white velvet coat and some diamond garters.

"The diamond is my birthstone," said this attractive animated "tower of jewels." "I have a large collection of them. Each stone is picked out and bought separately for me by an Indianapolis jeweler. They are all set in platinum."

Mrs. Anthony was not wearing the entire collection. It was afternoon, and besides they were not catalogued.

"Diamonds are a hobby with me," she admitted.

SECRET WIRELESS ABOARD THE APPAM.

NORFOLK, March 9.—When United States Marshal Saunders took possession of the liner Appam after the break with Germany, he found installed there, a secret wireless apparatus by which all wireless messages sent in this section of the country were read.

A fine wire was found strung beneath the pipe leading to the whistle on the smokestack of the Appam and extending above it as do the regular antennae of wireless. The wire led to the interior of the vessel, where dynamos were kept running to make the current for lighting the ship.

Investigation, it is said, led to the discovery that the wire finally ran to the room occupied by Lieut. Hans Berg, where the messages were recorded by flash from an electric light bulb.

Later investigation developed the dynamo in the boiler-room had been used to take the place of that in the wireless room, which was put out of commission when the United States court took charge. Messages could be sent and also received.

Estimates of the loss were placed at more than $1,000,000.

SUSPECTED GERMAN RAIDER IS REPORTED.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The presence of a vessel suspected as a German raider in the sea lane traveled by ships running between New York and Mediterranean ports was reported by Capt. D. M. Nicoll of the American steamship Suruga, which arrived here today from Havre and the Azores.

Capt. Nicoll said when the Suruga was north of the Azores on February 20, in the direct track of the New York-Mediterranean trade, he sighted a strange vessel which steamed around the Suruga, stopped and then bore off in a new direction. The stranger was of the cargo type, a large vessel with two masts, armed with a stern gun and other pieces, painted gray, and carried a funnel which did not parallel the masts. She did not signal the Suruga, Capt. Nicoll said, and he did not learn her identity.

CUBAN REBELS THREATE TO ATTACK OUR MARIN

American Forces Occupying Santi Face Guerrillas Outside City.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 9.—American marines and bluejackets occupying Santiago, recently the stronghold of the Cuban revolutionists, appear from latest Navy Department dispatches to be facing the possibility of an attack by the rebel bands waging guerrilla warfare in the city's suburbs.

The dispatches, apparently several hours behind developments, said the rebels had turned back after fleeing the city and were doing considerable damage around the outskirts in a movement which showed some signs of developing a general attack.

Cuban government troops, under Gen. Betancourt, were reported hurrying to Santiago to reinforce the small government garrison, however, and many officials believed the rebels would stay out of the city proper and avoid any clash with the Americans.

Although the loss of Santiago is regarded here as marking the collapse of the revolution, it is realized that a continuation of the guerrilla campaign in outlying sections may make serious trouble for the government commanders. When the rebels fled they left a notification that they would continue to refuse alliegiance to the Menocal administration, and already they are reported to have destroyed several bridges and to have wrought great havoc in the cane fields of the Santiago district.

Official dispatches to the Navy Department today established that Cuban government forces have regained control of Santiago. President Menocal has notified this government that Gov. Munoz, in command there, represents him and the recognized Cuban government.

The repossession of Santiago and the capture of the rebel leader Gomez and his staff are regarded here as marking the collapse of the rebellion. Today's dispatches do not say whether there was a fight at Santiago, but say the rebels, "realizing they were traitors about to be captured," threw away their arms and fled to the outskirts.

It appears from the dispatches, which are incomplete, that the Munoz forces took the city by a coup within it and before the Menocal troops marching on Santiago had arrived.

Munoz previously had declared himself loyal to President Menocal and the government, and at his request American forces were landed to protect foreign interests in case the departing rebels should attempt to re-enter after having their forces outside.

Fifty-nine Americans off for Switzerland on First Stage of Return—Concludes Long Controversy with the Imperial Government Over Status.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, March 8 (via Tuckerton, March 9.)—Fifty-nine Americans taken from vessels sunk by the German raider in the South Atlantic and brought to Swinemuende on January 1 on board the captured British steamer Yarrowdale, were released from quarantine today and departed at 4 p.m. for the Swiss frontier. The route was the one chosen for their return by the United States government.

News of their impending release was conveyed to them in the detention camp at Brandenburg yesterday by the Associated Press correspondent. Their attire and wardrobes hardly qualified them for a walk up Fifth avenue, but the information that their quarantine had ended and that they soon would be homeward bound elicited an instant cheer. The majority of them live in Boston, Brooklyn or Philadelphia. Their detention for the last twenty-three days was due to the discovery of spotted typhoid fever in their camp.

GOVERNMENT VIEW OF THE STEEL CORPORATION.

Department of Justice Alleges that the Concern is Violating the Sherman Law—Company Protests that Size Alone Does not Imply Existence of Monopoly.

WASHINGTON, March 9. — The Supreme Court today began consideration of the Federal dissolution suit against the United States Steel Corporation, its subsidiaries and officers. Argument will continue until next Wednesday.

Only seven of the nine justices are sitting in the case. Justice Brandeis retired, it is understood, because of public expressions made before his appointments in writings and official investigations regarding the so-called "steel trust." Justice McReynolds, while Attorney-General, participated in the Federal prosecution, which was begun in 1911, during President Taft's administration.

In opening the government's case, Asst. Atty.-Gen. Todd pictured the corporation as a "colossal super-combination" of competing units, producing approximately one-half of the nation's iron and steel output and controlling assets of more than $2,000,000,000. He declared it was "grossly overcapitalized." Promoters, he said, received "enormous" profits, and prices had "violently risen" after the corporation was formed sixteen years ago.

Outlining the defense, Richard V. Lindabury contended that the Sherman law does not prohibit combinations merely for size and power alone.

Proportionate production by the corporation, he said, had decreased to 40.9 per cent. since it was organized, while competition and competitors' proportion of output have increased.

SEVERE COLD KEEPS PRESIDENT IN BED.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—President Wilson probably will be confined in bed at least one more day because of the cold from which he has been suffering since Monday. Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his physician, said tonight that, although his fever had disappeared, he thought it better that the President rest completely for at least another day.

BRITISH SEARCH WOMAN, TAKE PAPERS.

NEW YORK, March 9.—The British Admiralty ordered the British steamship Vauban, bound for this city from South American ports, to change her course and stop at Bermuda, where women agents of the government searched Mrs. J. V. Zink, an American, passengers asserted when the vessel arrived here today.

Mrs. Zink was forced to surrender a packet of papers. She is the wife of an American drug salesman now in South America.

Edmund J. Zink, brother-in-law of Mrs. Zink, said later that the confiscated package contained letters given to Mrs. Zink by German friends of her husband to mail in this country to Germany.

TOLEDO (O.) March 9.—Declaring that he is hampered in his work by an element clamoring for war between the United States and Germany, Scott Nearing, professor of economics in Toledo University, today tendered his resignation. He has been criticised adversely recently because of his attitude toward the submarine controversy, about which he has made several public speeches.

Prof. Nearing came here about a year and a half ago from the University of Pennsylvania.

Sixty-fifth Congress.

TWO PARTIES CLAIM HOUSE.

Republicans and Democrats Each Forecast Control.

Observers Foresee Long Fight if no Coalition.

Independents Hold Present Balance of Power.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Optimistic forecasts of the control of the next House came from Democratic and Republican leaders tonight when they heard of the President's call for an extra session of Congress April 16. Many unbiased observers, however, foresee only a long and bitter organization fight unless a coalition agreement prevents.

Both Speaker Clark and Representative Woods of Iowa, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, predicted victory for their respective parties. Each said his party was assured of at least 218 votes and that this probably would be its minimum strength.

OFFICIAL STANDING.

The official standing of the incoming House is:

Republicans, 215; Democrats, 214; Prohibitionist, 1; Progressive, 1; Progressive-Protectionist, 1; Socialist, 1; Independent, 1; vacant, 1.

The vacancy exists in the Fifteenth New York District, which is overwhelmingly Democratic. Under the New York law this vacancy can be filled before the extra session begins if a special election is called before next Friday. It has been generally believed Gov. Whitman would call the election, which would make virtually certain a tie at 215. Then the winning side would have to gain the votes of three of the so-called Independents in order to have a majority.

Republican leaders are worried over the illness of three of their members and the statement of a fourth that h does not favor Repfourth that he does not favor Representative Hill of Connecticut, Sulloway of New Hampshire and Graham of Pennsylvania are ill. Though their condition is not serious there are fears that Hill and Sulloway may not be out for some time. Representative Heintz of Cincinnati, who succeeds former Representative Allen, a Democrat, recently stated in a letter that he did not "favor" Mr. Mann. He did not say, however, that he would not vote for him.

WILL CAUCUS.

All of the newly-elected Democrats and Republicans probably will be summoned here for caucuses a week or ten days before Congress is reconvened. Democrats are assured that all of their members will caucus, but several former Progressives now enrolled as Republicans, it is understood, will decline to be bound by caucus rules.

Some members would not be surprised to see a coalition agreement entered into before April 16, and the slate carried through with a rush before the end of the first day.

Despite the growing talk of coalition the five Independents insist they will not acquiesce quietly to wishes of the big party leaders.

Speaker Clark predicted tonight that once Congress resumes sittings, it will not adjourn till August, 1918. He thinks that organization work will be disposed of within four days of the opening and then the entire field of legislation, including bills which failed at the last session and new proposals will be opened up.

SWISS WILL SEND MAIL TO AMERICA.

WEDS MOVIE BEAUTY.

Real Love Story, Which Smacks of the "Reel," has Stock Broker and Actress of This City for Its Hero and Also the Heroine.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—A real love story, which sounds like a "reel" one, culminated in Greenwich, Ct., today when William L. Wilson and Miss Jeanette Gabrielle Rapelin were married. The bridegroom is a well-to-do mining broker, formerly of Los Angeles and San Francisco, but now living at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. His wife was a moving-picture actress and he fell in love with her while she acted before the camera and later educated her in a California school.

Mr. Wilson said he has been located here since September and intends to remain here, so he sent for Miss Rapelin. Chaperoned by her sister, Miss Andree, she arrived here three days ago.

Yesterday morning the couple took a large limousine and, accompanied by Miss Andree and by John Dillon, house detective at the Waldorf-Astoria, went to Greenwich. There, Mr. Timmins, justice of the peace, made them man and wife and the wedding party journeyed back by automobile to the hotel where they had a wedding luncheon.

A copy of the resolution was sent to Senator Vardaman and one was sent to President Wilson.

SENDS MESSAGE OF SORROW TO SCIENTIST'S WIDOW.

Tells Her that Death of the Count is Mourned by Whole German People—Says Name will be Immortalized by His Great Inventions.

AMSTERDAM, March 9 (via London, 6:05 p.m.)—Emperor William, says a Berlin dispatch, has sent the following telegram of condolence to Countess Zeppelin:

"With deep regret I have just learned of the death of your husband, General of Cavalry Count Zeppelin. I personally feel most painfully the death of this excellent man, distinguished by rare gifts of genius and of the heart. The whole German people stands with me in mourning at the bier of one of the greatest sons of the Fatherland.

"In the tenacious, indefatigable struggle for the mastery of the air he experienced successes which made his name immortal far across the frontiers of the empire—around the entire world. Called away in the midst of this gigantic war in which he so energetically co-operated combatting our enemies it was unfortunately not given to him personally to participate in the end of the fight, but his work will be continued in his spirit by the army and the navy.

"The Almighty may console you and your family in the great sorrow for the deceased whose fame is immortal. The memory of him will always remain sublime and dear to me.

[Signed] "WILHELM."

WITHSTOOD OPERATION.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 9, 11:32 a.m.—Count von Zeppelin was suffering from dysentery for some time prior to his death and a complication of the malady necessitated an intestinal operation, according to a Berlin dispatch to Reuter's. The operation was successful, and his recovery was hoped for when mumps developed, and later inflammation of the lungs. He died at noon Thursday.

CHAPTER LXXX.

In order to get a line on the professional complexion of the dentists who come to California seeking dental licenses, the State Board of Dental Examiners has a rule that an applicant for examination must tell in what States he is already licensed.

A swift glance at the official blacklist or quiet correspondence with the dental boards of the States named gives the dope on Mr. Toothsmith. If he is proved to be "ethical," if it is shown that he strums his harp in the celestial choir (say in Iowa,) if he wears the glistening crown and the snow-white robe of the pure in heart, and if he has an unblemished record of never having dirtied with advertising or shaved the minimum scale with an unprofessional razor, the St. Peters of California dentistry will smile on him—maybe. The golden portals will begin to budge a little. And that little examination ordeal takes on a more rosy hue.

But, if it is discovered that the applicant has a past, if he is discovered to have had illicit relations with printers' ink, if he has committed the unforgivable indiscretion of having charged under the fixed rate, then there is slim hope for him, no clemency at the hands of the reverend Sanhedrin that guards the safety of California's mouths. He might be a rattling good man with the forceps, but he has, in their eyes, a heart as black as the ink he used so recklessly; he has sold himself to Beelzebub; he's a Judas, a Benedict Arnold and a Pancho Villa all rolled into one. The Dental Examiners have his number. He might be a walking encyclopedia of tooth-lore, but he doesn't belong to the elect, and it would never do to let the rotten apple in among the sweet, sound ones.

Californians should congratulate themselves that they have, in the seven apostles on the Dental Board, such earnest conservers of the purity of their own profession that they bar from practice here men who have records for long and successful tooth-work in other States. The people ought to rejoice that they have, doing their dentistry, these intellectual giants who have it all figured out that the only way to protect the people is to protect their own brand of dentist and slam the door in the face of any and all men who are willing to come here and do first-class dentistry for a reasonable fee. Unquestionably the people like the system, for they have basked under its benevolent influence for over thirty years.

ternational problems and preparedness.

When the President goes beyond legislation of this character, however, he may not have such easy sailing. The Congress that ended with the famous filibuster against the armed neutrality bill last Sunday left on its calendars many measures besides appropriation bills which the administration will ask again at the coming session.

Appropriation bills which failed included the army, sundry civil, general deficiency and military academy bills, carrying more than $500,000,000.

General legislation urged by the President included an act to supplement the Adamson railroad law, enlargement of the Interstate Commerce Commission, conservation laws, including a general dam and water power bills, the Webb bill to legalize joint foreign selling agencies and a land leasing bill.

APPROPRIATION BILLS.

Although all the appropriation bills that failed had gone through the old House, they must go through the new one again, and must take the usual course through proper committees. These committees cannot be named until the House itself is organized, and no matter how willing the House may be to line up behind the President, these preparatory steps will take time. Unless there are radical changes in the measures that the House repasses, but little time need be lost in the Senate, where committees will remain practically unchanged and measures already considered can be given formal attention in short order. The appropriation bills must be passed by July 1, when the Federal fiscal year ends, and this fact will be a spur to action.

The special session of the Senate, which began Monday, probably will not last beyond the end of next week. After confirmation of a few nominations, adjournment probably will be taken. The only stumbling block might be the treaty with Colombia providing a $15,000,000 payment to that republic because of the partition of Panama.

Dr. Herman Berry Deplores the Suicidal Bustle of Today and Declares Liquor Now Would Kill a Man if He Indulged as Forefathers Did.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—Dr. Herman Berry regarded the world today with the wondering eyes of a man who is 100 years old. The venerable physician gazed out at the automobiles scooting by, the people everlastingly hurrying up and down the street, and said:

"Suicide."

"Yes, suicide," said the doctor. "People nowadays can't live very long. They don't know how to live. And someone is always inventing something to frazzle their nerves still further. It would have killed me a half-century ago had I tried to live, think, fret, worry and hurry as people of today. I've never fretted. I've chewed tobacco since I was a boy, and smoked also. In my father's and my grandfather's homes there was always liquor on the sideboard. I've taken liquor all my life, but the liquor nowadays is different. It's the sort of stuff that would kill a man if he indulged in it. Everything's been commercialized, even the manner of being a gentleman."

Murder Trials Begin of the Everett Trip Leaders.

Sheriff and Posse Fired Upon While Exhorting to Order.

Alleged Ringleader Tracy is First to go to Bar.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, March 9.—Men on the steamer Verona fired the first shot in the pistol battle at Everett, Wash., last November 5, between members of a free-speech expedition, sent there aboard the vessel by the Seattle headquarters of the Industrial Workers of the World, and members of a Sheriff's posse on the dock, according to the testimony of Harry W. Shaw, a member of the posse, at the trial in the Superior Court here today of Thomas H. Tracy, who is alleged to have been one of the leaders of the expedition and who is charged specifically with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Jefferson Beard, one of the posse.

Two of the Sheriff's posse and five of the party on the boat were killed. Tracy is the first of seventy-four members of the expedition accused of murder in connection with the shooting to be placed on trial.

Shaw testified that as Sheriff McRae was trying to address the men on the Verona, which had tied at the dock, three shots, followed quickly by a volley, were fired by persons aboard the craft. The witness said that he saw the Sheriff stagger and heard him say "They've got me," and that the wounded officer drew his revolver and returned the fire of his assailants. Then, Shaw stated, other members of the posse began firing.

He testified that early in the afternoon of November 5, an hour and a half before the Verona was due, Sheriff McRae notified the deputies to assemble near the city dock. Shaw and about 125 others responded to the call. McRae cautioned them not to display nor use their pistols unless absolutely necessary and the order was carefully obeyed, Shaw testified.

SHOTS FOR ANSWER.

As the boat neared the dock men in the bow were singing and shouting. When it drew alongside McRae shouted: "Who is your leader, boys?" Several men replied loudly "We are all leaders, by God." The manner of the men was belligerent. The Sheriff told them that their coming was unlawful and that they could not land. "The hell we can't" came in a chorus from the boat. The Sheriff held his right hand at his side and his left hand raised in the air while he addressed the visitors. Then the shots came from the boat.

On cross-examination Shaw declared the posse regarded the free-speech expedition as a conspiracy to violate the law. He admitted he heard it rumored that on October 30 forty-one free-speech advocates had been taken into custody at Everett by a band of masked citizens, escorted to Beverly Park, a suburb, made to run a gauntlet of clubs wielded by their captors and then warned never to return to Everett.

TO SHOW TRACY LEADER.

In his opening address Prosecuting Attorney Black of Snohomish county said the State would show that Tracy was a leader in the shooting and that a bullet from his pistol was among the first fired.

Black explained that the City Council had passed an ordinance prohibiting street meetings in the crowded business portion of Hewitt avenue, but had permitted meetings in other places, including the city park, which were attended by many persons. "It was not, therefore, for the purpose of obtaining free speech that the expedition of the I.W.W. to Everett was undertaken," he said.

GERMANY RETARDS BELGIAN INDUSTRIES.

AMSTERDAM, March 9 (via London, 11:40 a.m.)—The German authorities, according to the Telegraaf, have virtually stopped all industry in Belgium. The prohibition, includes all factories employing more than twelve workmen or using engines of more than five horse power or consuming more than five tons of coal or other fuel monthly.

Belgians also are forbidden to build or finish factories after March 1, without permission, the newspaper states.

REPORTS BRITISH ARE IN BAGDAD.

LONDON, March 10.—The Daily Chronicle says today it is virtually certain the British troops now are in Bagdad, and official confirmation of this may be expected at any moment. The Chronicle's military correspondent, upon whose information the assertion is based, writes:

"One is entitled to assume that the city was occupied without any serious fighting, and we probably shall learn that our cavalry dashed through it and along the Tigris toward Samdra."

PERUVIAN POLITICS SEETHING AGAIN.

[BY CABLE AND A. P.]

LIMA (Peru) March 9.—The political unrest which manifested itself on March 7 in the outbreak of serious disturbances in various parts of Peru is still strongly in evidence. President Pardo yesterday declined to confer with a committee of the Civil party, and today Javier Prado, president of the Civil party, issued a manifesto against the present Cabinet. The Cabinet, the manifesto declares, has lost the confidence of the country and by remaining in office can only aggravate the situation and perhaps cause serious disasters.

Lima advices on Thursday reported one change in the Peruvian Cabinet, in the replacement of Jose Garcia Bedoya by Dr. Ezequiel Munoz as Minister of the Interior. President Pardo, it had been previously stated, had refused to accept the resignation of other Cabinet members.

LINCOLN (Neb.) March 9.—A bill to repeal an existing law compelling the teaching of the German language in the public schools of Nebraska, was today reported out of committee for advancement in the lower house of the State Legislature. The law was enacted four years ago. Opposition to its provisions in Otoe county led to an order instructing the school trustees to enforce it and on an appeal to the Supreme Court the constitutionality of the law was affirmed. The law generally, however, has not been strictly enforced, except where local sentiment favored.

Baron Beyens Declares Documents Quoted by German Foreign Office Were Merely Memoranda of Precautions Taken by the Government.

HAVRE, March 8.—Baron Beyens, Belgian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has taken note of the publication in the semiofficial Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin of documents purporting to have been taken from the Belgian archives in Brussels tending to show that Belgium in 1906 was in negotiation with the British government for the entrance of British troops in eventuality of Belgium being attacked by Germany and for an invasion of Germany through Belgium. These documents, says Baron Beyens, were not new, but were annexed to memoranda of conversations between British and Belgian officers as to measures to resist a violation of Belgian neutrality by Germany.

"The real object of Germany in trying to obtain credence for the fable of a secret Anglo-Belgian alliance," says the Belgian Foreign Minister, "is to prepare public opinion for the revelation of a peace plan that would leave to Belgium nothing but an illusory independence. It is sought to pass off pan-Germanic covetousness for a simple programme of new guarantees dictated by requirements for the security of the empire.

"According to international law the Belgian government has every right to make an agreement with one or another of the powers that guaranteed its neutrality the moment it thought itself menaced. Belgium never wished to exercise that right, careful as it was to maintain the same traditional attitude toward all the guaranteeing powers and to accord invariably the same care to their signature and to their honor."

Germany, added Baron Beyens, acts absurdly in setting up the contention that she was in danger of an invasion from Belgium—from a military establishment so weak and insufficient as scarcely to be able to defend itself for a few days against a sudden attack from one of its powerful neighbors.

ENGLISH CONSPIRACY TRIAL IS RESUMED IN LONDON.

Woman Says She did not Want Anybody's Blood on Her Conscience and Never Meant to Harm Lloyd George or Other Statesmen.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 9, 1:30 p.m.—The taking of new testimony in the trial of Mrs. Alice Wheeldon, her two daughters and Alfred George Mason, husband of one of the daughters, was resumed today before Justice Low in the Old Bailey, where the prisoners are charged with conspiring to murder Premier Lloyd George and Arthur Henderson, labor member of the War Council. Mrs. Wheeldon continued her testimony. Replying to Judge Low, she admitted that she often had expressed the hope that the Premier and Mr. Henderson would soon be dead. At the moment of this expression it represented her wishes, she testified.

On being questioned whether the poison which she testified previously had been obtained to kill dogs would not have been just as available to get rid of Premier Lloyd George and Mr. Henderson, the witness said:

"I did not desire it to be carried out. I never wished to take anybody's life or to have anybody's blood on my conscience. That is why I objected to the army taking conscientious objectors."

Mrs. Wheeldon declared that various occurrences which, the crown contends, fit in with its case, were all coincidences. She said the secret agent, Gordon, who had been introduced to her as a fugitive from the police, had told her Premier Lloyd George was responsible for Lord Kitchener's death because Mr. Lloyd George was to have gone to Petrograd, but the plan was changed two hours before the time of departure and the escort which had been arranged for him was withdrawn.

Miss Harriet Wheeldon testified that she knew nothing about the poison. When Premier Lloyd George was going to Rome she said that he might "be seeing His Majesty soon," meaning the Almighty, she said, as there was a possibility that the Premier would be shot while in Rome.

Miss Wheeldon explained that a code used by her family was a joke at first and later was employed in connection with an effort to get her brother and other conscientious objectors out of the country. She testified that she had suspected the secret agents, Gordon and Booth, of being police spies, but that her mother did not agree with her.

FOR POLL TAX ON THE ALIENS.

Assembly Adopts Amendment Aimed at Foreigners.

Both Houses Agree to Hold Saturday Sessions.

Lower Branch Takes Steps to Quiet Joy Riders.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—A poll tax of not less than $4 a year on aliens is proposed in a constitutional amendment adopted by the Assembly today.

Opponents of the measure insisted that its framing would make it applicable to citizens of the State as well as aliens.

The amendment is worded to provide for taxation of all male adults between 21 and 60 years of age who are not eligible for military service. Whether eligibility for military service does not terminate of 45, exposing all male citizens over that age to the workings of the tax, was a point in debate. The tax is designed to raise school funds.

Vicini of Amador introduced the amendment. Harris of Bakersfield served notice after its passage, 67 to 8, that he would seek reconsideration Monday.

A bill introduced jointly by Assemblymen Pettis and Quinn, to include standing redwood timber in real estate valuations as basis for bank loans, was passed.

State Banking Superintendent Williams, through Satterwhite of Oakland, succeeded in obtaining passage of a Penal Code amendment which will make it a heavily punishable misdemeanor for anyone to circulate false reports about the financial condition of a bank.

The Assembly Committee on Prisons and Reformatories put over until Monday, through lack of a quorum, public discussion of the Goetting electrocution bill. For the first time this session, the lower chamber voted to hold a Saturday session, in common with the upper house.

Other bills passed today included:

By Hawes—Increasing the number of notaries in San Francisco from 110 to 120.

By Merriam—Providing procedure for the cancellation of municipal bonds voted but not issued within three years.

By Pettis—Imposing a $25 fine for discharging firearms from automobiles on public highways.

By Senator Johnson—Relating to uniform school elections.

A constitutional amendment proposed by Satterwhite of Oakland, designed to exempt from taxation cemeteries not conducted for profit, was adopted, also, by the Assembly.

IN THE SENATE.

The Senate accepted the dictum of its leaders today and for the first time this session will meet Saturday for transaction of business. The unsual custom of the Senate has been to adjourn Friday noon until Monday, and it is understood that other Saturday sessions will be in order hereafter when the condition of the bill calendar justifies such a step. In previous Legislatures the Senate's custom has been to hold Saturday sessions only toward the closing days when the usual rush is on.

Today business consisted of the passage of bills, which included two measures whose enactment into laws is sought by the Industrial Accident Commission. They provide for the periodical inspection of elevators in the interest of public safety, and the right of inspection of hospitals maintained by corporations for treatment of employees. At present, the inspection of the hospitals is in the hands of the State Railroad Commission and today's bill seeks to provide for a joint inspection.

The Senate also passed Lyon's bill requiring contractors engaged in public work to establish weekly pay days. Other bills passed were:

By Tyrrell—Definitely establishing the class of defectives subject to a asexualization.

By Hans—Two bills relieving firemen and policemen of the city of Alameda of paying $2 a month into the pension fund, the money to be taken from the city's funds.

One hundred or more students of the Oakland High School occupied the Senate gallery today and received their first lesson in legislative procedure. At the request of Senator A. H. Breed of Oakland, the students were granted all privileges of the upper house.

Action on Senator Chandler's bill imposing an annual tax of $6000 on all firms using trading stamps, coupons or premiums in connection with their business was postponed today at the request of opponents of the measure. It was said that several Senators who are against the bill are out of the city. It probably will be called up for a vote next week.

A determined fight will be made to defeat the measure. It recently was recommended for passage by the Senate Judiciary Committee by a seven-to-six vote.

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—The Assembly Public Utilities Committee today voted to table the Goetting bill designed to prohibit members of the State Railroad Commission from recommending appointees for public office.

A bill by Assemblyman Tarke to provide for a State highway opening Lake county to automobile tourists, from Rumsey in Yolo county to Lower Lake in Lake county, went before the Ways and Means Committee today with a favorable report by the Roads and Highways Committee. It calls for a $104,000 appropriation.

IS GOV. JOHNSON PLANNING A COUP?

RUMOR HE MAY NAME ROWELL FOR SENATORSHIP.

Queer Actions of Executive Give Rise to Reports of His Reluctance to Let Go of State Machine in View of Campaign for Presidency in 1920.

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—After keeping expectancy on tiptoe for three days Gov. Johnson backed up again this afternoon and declined to make a statement as to his future course in regard to the United States Senatorship. To the representatives of the press he said that he had been disappointed in some advices he was expecting from the East, but that he would really and truly make a statement on Monday. This was after he had been shown a dispatch announcing that President Wilson had called an extra session of Congress for April 16.

As the delays succeed each other the coolness between the friends of Gov. Johnson and those of Lieut.-Gov. Stephens becomes more marked. Enough bad blood has already been engendered to cause the wise ones to prophesy that Stephens will not be able to get the support of the Johnson contingent in the north for Governor in 1918.

Meanwhile the vultures are gathering. Never were there so many lobbyists in the State capital. There are more than a score of controversies which the followers of Gov. Johnson want to see settled before he leaves the Governor's chair.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

From San Francisco comes a whole flock of hungry birds of prey. They are headed by Frank Daroux, San Francisco gambler and king of the underworld. He has been here for two days; most of his time is spent in the private committee-rooms at the Capitol. He holds the whole San Francisco delegation in the hollow of his hand, and he is reported to be making trades of eighteen Assembly votes in a block to defeat the Rominger anti-saloon bill and the Knight white slave bill. Daroux was one of the Governor's chief backers in San Francisco last year and for that he has entree to the Governor's office after office hours, when only the Governor and a few of his closest advisers are present.

This afternoon the labor-union lobby started a drive to get the labor bills all out of committees so that they can be signed if passed before April 16. An attempt is also being made to rush the flood control and drainage bills. Activity appeared on the Assembly side over the State budget. The Governor's followers are calling on him to crack the whip for the last time and save for them the few millions of pork which the general and special appropriation bills contain.

Even the legislative supporters of the Governor admit that they are stumped at the Governor's attitude. They will attempt to give no explanation why he should decline to issue the statement he had promised the press; they say that he certainly cannot expect to remain here after the special session of Congress is actually under way.

MAY PLAN A COUP.

Rumors are in circulation tonight that the Governor's delay is occasioned by the fact that he is meditating a coup which will at once enable him to vent the malice which he has suddenly displayed towards Lieut.-Gov. Stephens and, at the same time, to hold onto the State machine. Desperate cases sometimes require desperate remedies.

Information has leaked out about a secret conference that was held here in Sacramento one Sunday during the legislative recess. Those present were Victor Murdock, Chester Rowell and Gov. Johnson. Great care was taken to keep the fact that the conference was held away from the press.

Stripped of its trimmings, here is the report that is in circulation here tonight:

Gov. Johnson will not occupy his seat in the United States Senate. He will resign and appoint Chester Rowell in his stead. He will remain Governor for the next two years, will keep possession of the State machine in order to wield it for his successor as Governor, who will not be Stephens. He will devote the whole of 1919 to organizing branches of the Progressive Republican League (Incorporated) and will attempt to get the Republican nomination for President or Vice-President in 1920. Failing in this, he will take position on the State Railroad Commission. This will be made possible by his having a hand-picked Governor in the gubernatorial chair. A place on the Railroad Commission pays more — expenses included — than the salary of a United States Senator.

Needless to report, this rumor lacks confirmation; but it has suddenly appeared from different sources. Some say that it has been put in circulation for the purpose of forcing the hand of Lieut.-Gov. Stephens, who has steadily declined to make certain promises which the Gov. Johnson followers would like to exact. While it sounds like a hoax, it is receiving credence from quarters where one would least expect it.

EUROPEAN BLIZZARD HALTS WAR MOVES.

ARTILLERY ONLY ACTIVITY NOT CHECKED BY COLD.

German Retreat Said to Have Involved Heavy Sacrifice of Picked Men Left to Delay Enemy Advance—Troops Ignorant of the American Break.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, March 9 (via London, 10 p.m.)—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press.) Blizzard conditions have prevailed on the western front for two days, holding the military operations within a very small compass. Coming after a ten-days' thaw and the apparent approach of an early spring, the renewed cold has been keenly felt.

The howling March gales, accompanied by heavy snowfalls, have interfered with nearly every phase of modern war activity, except the persistent roar of the British guns, which fire continuously, day and night and regardless of weather, hurling death, destruction and confusion behind the enemy's lines.

They "search out" roads, pound communication lines to cut off supplies, "pay attention" to places where reliefs are likely to take place and otherwise harrass the Germans, with scarcely a moment's respite.

GERMANS SACRIFICED.

It is increasingly evident that in carrying out their retirement in the Arras and Somme areas, the Germans sacrificed large numbers of their very best soldiers. Carefully selected from various regiments they were given certain posts with instructions to hold them against all odds, a majority of them having no idea whatever that they were fighting a rear guard action. Prisoners taken represent the highest type of the German army.

It was not until their repeated "S. O. S." rocket signals for artillery assistance went completely unanswered, that these men suspected the position in which they had been placed—that they formed a sacrificial screen covering the retreat of the main body of their comrades. The prisoners still profess belief in a German victory frankly saying they base their confidence largely in Germany's submarine campaign, which they and all the rest of the army have been told is sure to bring peace within three months. Letters found on prisoners and dead men also show the extent to which the promise of victory through unrestricted submarine warfare has been disseminated throughout the empire.

IGNORANT OF BREAK.

On the other hand, great pains seem to have been taken to prevent the men at the front from learning the details and the possibilities entailed in the break with the United States. The prisoners know virtually nothing of that situation, although one had a letter from home which read:

"I hope you are keeping well. One reads of British attacks daily. What say you about America? Our situation is becoming more and more critical. Perhaps the U-boats will bring the war to a speedy finish or else we shall make more enemies."

The British artillery having made the bringing up of asphyxiating gas cylinders to points of vantage too costly, the Germans have resorted to the unrestricted employment of gas shells, gas bombs, and gas jars, the latter being fired from trench mortars. German guns during the last ten days have been spraying gas shells about one end of the British front.

RAID SHIP, SEIZE WHISKY, IN OREGON.

PORTLAND (Or.) March 9. — Sheriffs' officers raided the steamer Breakwater from San Francisco at her dock here today and seized 375 quarts of whisky, which were found concealed in staterooms, in the boiler-room and in various other places. Five men were arrested as they were leaving the steamer with packages of liquor in their hands.

MEXICO STILL BEST CUSTOMER.

Custom Report for February Shows Increase in Imports and Exports.

Imports and exports in the local customs district for February, according to a report issued yesterday, shows that Mexico leads in both classes by a large per cent. The imports amounted to $463,362, as against $296,408, for February, 1916, and of the first amount Mexico furnishes $349,349. The exports are valued at $406,561, as against $224,342, for the same month last year.

Of the exports for February, Mexico furnished $180,747 at the port of Calexico alone, made up almost entirely of cotton. The collections for February were but $23,930.80, as compared with $31,119.17 for the same months last year. Of the total imports, $415,462 were free of duty, and $47,900 dutiable under the tariff law.

Outside of Mexico the largest items of imports comes from Canada and Japan, each with about $26,000. The imports from the warring countries were practically nil.

HEALER'S CASE TO GO TO JURY TODAY.

OVER MOTION TO DISMISS ON DUAL GROUNDS.

Defense in Fraud Trial Alleges Talesmen are Disqualified by Sitting in Two Cases, and that Conspiracy with Dead Man is Impossible; Objections Overruled.

The case of Francis Schlatter, "divine" healer accused of having used the mails to defraud, will go to the jury in United States District Judge Trippet's court today. The charge to the jury will be given when court convenes this morning. The prospect is an immediate appeal will be taken, on the ground three of the Schlatter jurors, during a recess in the trial, served in another case, and are therefore disqualified.

This objection was stated by Attorney J. F. Ryckman for the defense yesterday, and as a ground for a motion to dismiss the case, was coupled with the allegation that, since August Schrader, jointly accused with Schlatter, has died, a conviction for conspiracy between the two is impossible. The court overruled both objections and said he will instruct the jury that Schlatter can be found guilty of conspiracy with Schrader, even though the latter is dead.

The one witness for the defense, Mrs. May Whittenberger of this city, testified she had invested in one of the "blessed" handkerchiefs, and while it had not cured her of dyspepsia and insomnia, she was benefited. There were also introduced for the defense letters from various points in the East, purporting to be from persons who had been cured by Schrader and Schlatter.

WOMEN SHOVEL SNOW IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, March 9 (via London, March 10, 3:15 a.m.)—The heavy snowfall, which has covered Central Europe for the last seventy-two hours, struck Berlin yesterday. The bus lines discontinued their trips and the subway made a new record by hauling 400,000 passengers.

While the volunteer snow shovelers are made up largely of school youths, it is a common sight to see a dozen or more well-dressed women clearing streets and curbs of snowdrifts. The street-cleaning service is wholly voluntary and responses came from all classes for the work.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—The rain and windstorm which suddenly came down out of the north last night spread over the whole State, and before it passed on east over the Sierras an average of half an inch of precipitation had been added to the season's total at every station where weather records are kept.

LIGHT RAIN IN THE SOUTHLAND.

Rain began falling at 8 o'clock yesterday in Los Angeles. There was a gentle sprinkle most of the day, and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon it ceased. The reports from out of town indicated that the heaviest fall was at Pomona, where .42 of an inch was recorded. Santa Barbara, usually in the lead in the matter of rain, had only .25 of an inch. The impression among ranchers was to the effect that the rain was most beneficial to barley, and the hay outlook was never brighter, they say. Santa Ana reports that the sugar-beet planting has been delayed on account of the rain.

Tremendous.

WOULD MAKE THIS FOCUS OF GREAT WATER TRADE.

Plan Under Way for Barge and Steamer Service to Link this Harbor with St. Paul, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh and New Orleans is Indorsed by the Commerce Chamber and Shippers.

A GIGANTIC all-water route project to link Los Angeles with the great Mississippi Valley by way of the Panama Canal and the Mississippi River was launched here yesterday morning when J. W. Cooper of the firm of Griggs Cooper and Company of St. Paul, conferred with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and some of the largest shippers in the city, at a meeting called by President L. D. Sale.

The plan contemplates placing in commission a line of barges on the Mississippi between the Twin Cities and New Orleans, where the goods will be loaded on ocean-going steamers and brought direct to the Los Angeles Harbor by way of the Panama Canal and here transhipped, either by rail for inland points or by water for the Orient or the west coast of Mexico and South and Central America.

It was pointed out that such a plan would entail a saving of hundreds of millions of dollars to the jobbers of the Southwest in freight rates, and by reason of this tremendous economy, would enable them to compete with eastern houses for the foreign commerce of the Orient and South America.

In addition to tapping the mighty resources of the Mississippi Valley, direct water connection could easily be established with Pittsburgh, by way of the Ohio River. It would also put Los Angeles in touch with the great coal measures of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia and with the immense iron deposits of the Lake Superior region. The iron could be freighted to Cleveland, thence a short rail haul to Pittsburgh, where it could be loaded on barges and sent down by river to New Orleans and by sea to Los Angeles, giving this city the essential raw materials, coal and iron ore, for the development of a great iron and steel industry.

MOVE IS UNDER WAY.

The first step in the consummation of this project has been taken by a group of capitalists in St. Paul and Minneapolis, in the formation of a $2,000,000 corporation known as the Twin Cities Navigation Company. The project has the hearty indorsement and co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade of New Orleans and the men behind the enterprise are planning on securing a like indorsement and support from the commercial bodies of St. Louis.

The plan was evolved for the purpose of relieving the shippers, both East and West, of the constant disabilities and hampering of traffic imposed by the railroads through differential tariffs and the hauling of goods far beyond their points of destination, entailing delay and high freight charges. From figures presented at the meeting it was demonstrated that goods destined for Los Angeles could be shipped over this all-water route at a tremendous saving in the freight charge, and in as short a time as they now come over the rail routes.

The company contemplates building its river barges to conform to the demands of modern freight-carrying needs. There will be an elaborate refrigerator barge service and barges destined especially for the carrying of grain, ore, coal and live stock. Special express service for perishable goods will be part of the plan, the express barges to be propelled by high power gasoline or oil engines and the goods transshipped to fast steamers at New Orleans.

SHIPPERS PLEASED.

G. Harold Powell, manager of the California Fruit Growers' Association, was present at the meeting and expressed the view that it might be adapted to the needs of the fruit shippers. Many of the big shippers present expressed their entire confidence in the feasibility of the plan, and pledged their co-operation and support of a movement to have Los Angeles at once take steps to make this city the western terminus of this important traffic plan.

The view was prevalent that the railways of the nation had failed to adapt their systems to the rapidly-changing commercial conditions, and that the only solution from the shipper's point of view is to bring into being a new system of transportation that will more adequately meet the needs of the nation's rapidly expanding commerce.

Upon motion of Jonathan S. Mitchell, the Chamber of Commerce heartily indorsed the project, and will at once notify St. Paul and Minneapolis, and New Orleans commercial bodies of the action taken. It was also decided to at once inaugurate a campaign of education among the business men and general public, with a view to arousing interest in the matter and to having some action taken at once that will assure Los Angeles being the Pacific Coast terminal for this nationally important enterprise.

Mayor Woodman, who was present at the meeting, addressed the board in favor of the project. He laid particular stress on the fact that Los Angeles has not heretofore taken advantage of the tremendous commercial possibilities that are here under her very fingers. He called attention to the harbor and its adaptability to being the western distributing point for the immediate commerce such a project would bring into being, and urged the Chamber to take prompt and vigorous measures in the forwarding of the movement.

MORE RAIN FOR MARCH, SAYS FATHER RICARD.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—Father Ricard of Santa Clara University has the following to say in his magazine, "The Sunspot," of the weather during March:

have lain dormant during the first half of February and which have waked up to a moderate degree of activity during the latter half, will continue, to an equally moderate extent, to be active during a good portion of March.

"The amount of rainfall over the Coast, though largely unequally distributed, will, no doubt, be generous enough to insure satisfactory surface crops and keep up the vigorous life of our innumerable fruit trees.

"Moderate warm and stormy waves will set upon the Coast on the following dates: March 13, 16, 20, 24, 27, 30, April 3, 7, 10."

Tennis, Baseball and Track Events Called off Because of Rain to be Played Today

East Versus West Tennis.

MAY SUTTON BUNDY PLAYS MOLLA BJURSTEDT TODAY.

Postponed Doubles Match will be Completed, Willie Johnston will Play George Church, and Browne and Wayne Play Alexander and Doyle—Friday Matches to be Played Monday.

BY LEEPSON BOWNES.

PROMPTLY at 12:30 today Willie Johnston and Johnny Strachan will face George Church and Harold Throckmorton to finish up their uncompleted doubles match of the East versus West tennis tournament. When their match was called at 6:20 Thursday evening the easterners were in the lead, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 7-7, with Johnston about to serve. The match will continue from that point.

Immediately after the cessation of hostilities in the doubles, Strachan and Throckmorton will seek the showers, and Johnston and Church will play their singles match. This will be followed by the May Sutton Bundy-Molla Bjurstedt singles and the Doyle and Alexander versus Browne nd Wayne doubles.

The first doubles match is liable to be over in two games or it may string out half the afternoon. If Johnston and Strachan happen to be playing well, they still have a strong chance to win, otherwise the team of hard-hitting easterners looks good.

The matches now stand two wins for the West and none for the East with five matches still to go. Two wins out of the three matches scheduled for today will put the tournament on ice for the West. This statement is made, not because it is expected to come true, but merely as a wish.

The rain trickled all over things yesterday and forced the postponement of the scheduled matches. These will go over to Monday, being played exactly as scheduled. Friday tickets will be good Monday. There is just a possibility that T. R. Pell may be called East, in which case F. B. Alexander will play his match against John Strachan on Monday.

Tremendous interested centers today in the match between Mrs. Bundy and Miss Bjurstedt. It will be the fourth meeting between the two hard-hitting players, Miss Bjurstedt having been victorious at their first meeting and Mrs. Bundy on the other two occasions. Miss Bjurstedt expects to square matters.

Johnston comes into his singles match against Church with a recent victory over the elongated eastern captain to back him up. He defeated Church at the Hawaiian Mid-Pacific Carnival a couple of weeks ago. Johnston showed splendid form against Strachan on Wednesday but was rather erratic on Thursday.

The double match between Doyle and Alexander of the East and Browne and Wayne of the West will be one in which Southern California tennis fans will have special interest because of the fact that the West's representatives are home products pure and simple. The local pair have two recent victories over McLoughlin and Bundy to their credit.

To reach the field either the University or West Jefferson cars may be taken. Because of the length of the schedule the matches will be started on the dot of 12:30 o'clock.

NATHAN HALL SETS RECORD.

San Diego Boy Pulls into the Second Place.

Five-time Champ Forced to Take Third.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, March 9.—Nathan Hall of this city, who had already clinched the national amateur billiard championship at 18.2 balk line, tonight rounded out his record for the title tournament without defeat, when he scored 400 to 351 in play against the five-times former champion, Edward W. Gardner of New York.

Ledyard Blake of San Diego won second place in the standing by his defeat of Jacob Klinger of New York, 400 to 397. The final rating of the championship competitors was:

	Won.	Lost.
Nathan Hall, Boston	6	0
Ledyard Blake, San Diego	4	2
Edward W. Gardner, New York	3	3
T. Henry Clarkson, Boston	3	3
E. L. Milburn, Memphis	3	3
J. Klinger, New York	2	4
Edward Rein, Chicago	0	6

In his victory over Gardner, Hall went forty-five innings. It was his poorest exhibition of the tournament. He was behind in count up to the ninth inning and lost the lead again in the thirty-sixth inning. Once regained, however, he held it and ran out in the last inning with a 29. His other high runs were 41, 34, 37, 44 and 35, and his average 8 8-9 shots an inning.

Gardner's best efforts were 37, 22, 28, 40, 26 and 50, the latter being the high run of the match. His average was 7 43-44.

The Blake-Klinger match was the closest of the tournament, and decision was in doubt almost from inning to inning. For twenty-four innings Klinger was well advanced over his opponent, but Blake then unlimbered his cue for a count of 44 and took the lead. Klinger overtook him in five innings, and when the thirtieth inning, when he scored a run of 37, had an advantage of 31 points.

Up to the forty-third inning Klinger continued well ahead, but in the forty-fourth Blake, with 31, went into the lead by 2 points. He had increased his margin at the fiftieth only to see Klinger again gain the front again in the fifty-first with a run of 24. Blake's 46 in the fifty-fourth returned his advantage, notwithstanding that Kinger made a 43 in the same inning.

With the completion of fifty-six innings the score was, Blake, 394; Kinger, 380. Klinger got a 17 in the fifty-seventh, only three short of the required total, while Blake had made only 5, but the latter's opportunity to go first to the table in the fifty-eighth made it possible for him to run out with a single shot. Blake's average was 6 52-58; Klinger's, 6 55-57.

REDLANDS AFTER TROJAN SCALP.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, March 9.—A track team from the University of Southern California and the Redlands High School team will argue matters in the way of time and distance in track and field events on the university field here tomorrow afternoon. Since defeating Pomona by such a loud score the High School team has become ambitious, and there are some who predict a walkaway from U.S.C. in the meet.

Yount is in better shape than he was last week, and, besides being entered in the two hurdles, will be in the broad jump. In the ranks of U.S.C. will be some old Redlands men, among them Chesnut, the crack hurdler of the school last year. The Lamport brothers, great track stars, will also be seen in the meet.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Thorpe played with Milwaukee last season.

OAKS LAND ON BERKELEY YOUTHS.

BOYES SPRINGS, March 9.—Del Howard's Oaks put over a 5 to 1 win against the University of California nine this afternoon. The grounds were in fairly good shape despite the heavy rain which fell the night before. Score:

University of California—1; hits, 7, errors, 2.

Oakland—5; hits, 9; errors, 1.

Batteries—Dimock and Gimbal; Arlett, Prough, Kramer and Callan.

Another outfielder is coming to join the already formidable staff of fly chasers that Manager Howard has under contract. Jimmy Lee, secured from the St. Louis Browns last fall, telegraphed tonight that he will report.

Where he will play is a question. Lee will have to show a lot of class to crowd out Hank Miller, Billy Lane and Roxy Middleton from the regular berths. There also is Chet Chadbourne to be figured, with Harry Krause available as a useful outfield utility man.

HARD RAIN STOPS SEAL-CUB BATTLE.

SACRAMENTO, March 9.—Baseball didn't turn a wheel today. Not a uniform was donned and the opening Seal-Cub battle scheduled for this afternoon was called off. Hard rain the night before, together with showers this morning, rendered the grounds hors du combat, so Wolverton and Jimmy Sheckard agreed to make it a full vacation period.

Judging from the talk today there isn't one chance in a million for Rowdy Elliott to return to the Coast. The Cubs are shy on backstop material, and Sheckard, Tip O'Neill and the ball players themselves say Rowdy is to be rated a regular, which means Oakland will have to forage elsewhere.

Spider Baum, Lefty O'Doul and other sore-arm individuals took treatment at the hands of Dr. Richardson of Los Angeles. The osteopath straightened some kinks and promises the boys will be O. K. inside of two days. According to the doctor, O'Doul's sore arm came from a vertibrae out of place in the lad's spinal column.

SHOWERS INTERRUPT BEE WORKOUT.

PORTERVILLE, March 9.—Showers unheralded by the weather man interrupted the work of the Bees today and resulted in cancelling the game with the Porterville orange pickers, which had been slated for this afternoon. Skipper Bill Bernhard took the weather philosophically, however, and declared the men of his squad would be all the better for the rest.

Arrangements were practically completed this evening for an exhibition here Sunday between the Bees and the Fresno Sun Maids, who recently annexed the scalps of the Cubs No. 2.

Rain Interferes with Some Well-laid Plans.

Roy Mitchell Blows in on the Sou'easter.

Honus Mitze Continues to Want a Change.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The managers tossed in a few sticks of eucalyptus and hunks of anthracite, and, having revived the dying embers of the Stove League, called it a day's work.

Hostilities were suspended in Los Angeles, Vernon and Pasadena in honor of the rain. The farmers needed the rain. Having a kindly feeling for the farmers, Stovall and Mitchell were willing that it should rain, and Chance, who is a farmer, appreciated their stand in the matter. Stovall and Mitchell hoped that the gentle downpour would strengthen the rising crop of infant potatoes, increase the production and lower prices. Each of them is feeding about forty athletes. Chance, who raises potatoes between his orange trees, hoped that the rain would increase the crop, but not dilute the price.

The Cubs thought that it never rained in Southern California after March 1, and all of them stuck their heads out of the hotel window under the impression that they were looking at something which had never happened before. They went to bed last night in the happy belief that they had viewed a meteorological phenomenon arranged for their entertainment at great expense by the millionaire directors.

The Cubs sleep in one section of the Hotel Green and eat in the other. The two sections are connected by a concrete bridge spanning Raymond avenue. None of them has used the bridge to date, it being easier simply to walk across the pavement; but the bridge is now a great source of comfort to them. It means that in case of high water they will not be cut off from the dining-room. No athlete wants to be isolated from his daily victuals.

A small puddle of fans assembled at Washington Park under the impression that there would be a ball game. These were recently from the East, where nothing short of a cloudburst is permitted to interrupt the great national pastime. Our own native, arid fans knew in their own hearts that there would be no game and did not pay even a fleeting visit to the pen.

There will be the usual game today between Los Angeles and Chicago, weather permitting. Chance will probably start Hogg, especially if the field is sloppy, while Douglas is due to do a skit or a skid for the Cubs.

Chance is holding Jack Ryan in abeyance for use against Jim Vaughan tomorrow afternoon, when the Cubs will make their last celebrated appearance in Los Angeles. For ten days Jack has been holding his spitter in an upside-down position and figures that he can now release it successfully.

Honus Mitze became downcast because of the dark weather and decided that he isn't satisfied to play with the Tigers. Although he only arrived here Thursday he says he has been in the Coast League too long and wants to play in St. Paul. Honus is one of the most dissatisfied persons ever seen in this circuit. Only when he is dissatisfied is he in his normal condition. In Oakland he was not satisfied until he became manager. When he later was reduced to the ranks dissatisfaction became rampant in him. It was thought that a transfer to Vernon would appease his desire for full satisfaction, but it didn't seem to, as he announced his retirement early in the season. Then he repented and returned to the game, not having found the simple life satisfying. And here we have him running true to form again this spring.

Roy Mitchell blew into town from Texas yesterday on a strong southeast wind. He announced his retirement last fall and might have done so had not the wind come along and interfered with his plans. It is an ill southeast wind that blows no good. This one blew Roy into a meal ticket good for seven months, which beats blowing yourself for one.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Bobby Vaughn has decided not to play in the Northwestern League. As he is in Seattle, Chance figured that it might suit him to play in the Northwest, and had contemplated leaving him there, inasmuch as Bobby had declined to accept the terms submitted. In word received from Vaughn he says that his position has been misconstrued and that he is merely remaining in Seattle to complete some unfinished business. He does not state the nature of the business. It is expected that he will report next week.

ORDEMAN HERE FOR MAT BOUT.

Henry Ordeman, the Norwegian wrestler, arrived in this city yesterday safe and sound and today the pulse of Tim McGrath is beating normal again.

Ordeman is the man from Minneapolis who is to wrestle famous Scissors Joe Stecher, champion of the world, at Maier's Vernon arena tomorrow afternoon.

The newcomer said yesterday that he was in excellent condition and looked the part. McGrath was beginning to fear that Ordeman was hog fat or had a beard and was afraid to be seen. Imagine what relief it was to the promoter to have a lean giant tipping the scales at 207 blow in and announce himself as the overdue Ordeman.

Joe Stecher, the champion, has been training for a week at Jack Doyle's and is in excellent condition. Every afternoon he has put that famous scissors which has baffled all comers, on his brother until the latter's sides are creaky.

Like all champions Stecher does not believe in loafing. He never dissipates and trains faithfully every day. That's one reason for champions—faithful training. One never sees a champion who doesn't work for what he has.

Picked Juniors—Weatherwax, 3 goals; Talbot, 3 goals; Mead, 1 goal. Totals goals, 7. Penalties—Weatherwax, foul; net score, 6½.

The second of the four trophy events of the polo season at Coronado will be inaugurated tomorrow afternoon when Del Monte and Coronado meet in the opening game. Midwick and Miami play Sunday and the two winning fours meet Tuesday in the finals.

The line-up of the Coronado team was completed late yesterday when Cliff M. Weatherwax was selected as the fourth man on the team and the arrival of G. Maurice Heckscher, slated to play in the green and white colors.

The aggregation of high goal men who will play in Del Monte's colors is the strongest in rating gathered on the Coast in recent years, the total handicap reaching the unusual figure of twenty-five. As Coronado's four is handicapped at nineteen, the trans-bay will have the advantage of a six-goal lead when the first bugle blows. W. P. Hulbert will be available for play for Coronado if needed.

Prohibition.

FOR PASADENA DRY AS BONE.

d Templars Start Campaign with Queries.

didates Asked to Outline Position on Issue.

to Have Liquor at Meals Forbidden.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 10.—The "bone-dry" prohibition issue has been injected into the present campaign for the election of a Board of Freeholders and City Commissioners. Yesterday afternoon the Good Templars sent a communication to each of the forty-nine candidates for Freeholder and the eight candidates for Commissioner, asking for a declaration.

Good Templars Lodge, No. 173, is taking the lead in the movement to place the candidates on record. There are about 5000 members of the organization in Pasadena. The members have declared their intention not to vote for any candidate who does not declare himself in favor of absolute prohibition. There are no saloons in Pasadena and liquor is served only with meals in the clubs, cafes and hotels. The Good Templars wish to eliminate the sale of all liquor from the city by not permitting it to be served with meals. In their campaign they said they will have the support of some of the church element.

It is declared a strong effort was made to prevent the prohibition issue from coming up at this time, especially by those who are satisfied with the present form of prohibition. The Good Templars, however, declare that they will force the issue.

BUSINESS MEN INTERESTED.

Business circles are particularly interested in the $4,000,000 merger of the Maryland, Huntington and Green hotels as announced yesterday in The Times. The new corporation will be known as the California Hotel Company, and D. M. Linnard, the present manager of the three hotels, will be the controlling factor. S. W. Straus & Co., New York bond brokers, will float a $2,000,000 issue of bonds.

Col. G. G. Green has sold all his interests in the Hotel Green property to the corporation, it is understood. The understanding is that Henry E. Huntington, in selling the Huntington to the new company, will take a block of stock in part payment. The terms on which the Huntington and Maryland is being turned over to the company has not been made known.

BUYS OAK KNOLL HOME.

Dr. Raymond B. Mixsell yesterday purchased the Oak Knoll home of Charles Herring Leffingwell, Jr., for a consideration of about $72,000. The house was designed by Myron Hunt, and is regarded as one of the most carefully constructed homes in that section of the city. Dr. Mixsell will move to his new residence the pipe organ which is recently installed in his home at No. 491 Arbor street.

Dr. Mixsell, aside from his profession, is a musician of note, and is particularly well known as an organist. He is an active member and officer of the Cadman Club. Mr. Leffingwell is the owner, with his father, of an orange grove at La Habra, which is managed by his brother, Ernest DeKoven Leffingwell, the noted Arctic explorer.

HOT DOGS GET A BOOST.

Sandwich Men Decide to Make Price of Weiners Ten Cents in Future.

VENICE, March 9.—Consternation struck the consumers of "hot dogs" at the beach today, when it became known that the price of weiner sandwiches would probably advance from 5 cents to 10 cents. The "hot dog" vendors say that the price of potatoes, onions and beans is not the only thing that restaurateurs have to contend with.

They say the rise in the price of "hot dogs" is justified because of the following reasons:

Weiners, they say, could formerly be bought for from 50 to 60 cents for a five-pound box; now the price is 80 cents.

Paper bags, like newspaper print, has advanced from 25 cents a hundred to 45 cents.

Mustard was sold at forty-four ounces for 25 cents; now it is thirty-two ounces for 25 cents.

And "to cap the climax" copper-cleaning polish advanced from 75 cents to $1.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, March 9.—Thinking that Gerald Knox, a 6-year-old boy, was bitten by a poisonous spider, Mr. Clarence Oldham of this city, picked the youngster up and rushed him to the doctor. Several tarnatulas were seen this morning on the beach.

Little Gerald was playing on Moonstone Beach and caused no end of commotion by suddenly frantically crying for help. He claimed that "Spider" had bit him on the toe. Mr. Oldham rushed to the rescue, and on his way to the doctor's he met the small boy's mother and nurse, who were looking for him. Mr. Oldham explained that a spider had bitten the lad, and the mother explained that the child's pet, a small fox terrier, was named Spider. The boy and dog were playing on the sand and the fox terrier playfully bit the boy on the toe.

RECALL PETITION.

Voters of the Beach Resort Sign Up for an Election to Determine Fate of Mayor James H. Blagge—No Specific Act is Alleged.

SEAL BEACH, March 9.—Citizens of this young municipality are aroused over the first breach in the city affairs of Seal Beach.

A petition to recall Mayor James H. Blagge was presented at the meeting of the City Council last night, but, owing to the absence of a number of the municipal solons, no action was taken in the matter.

The petition contained the signatures of ninety voters, more than three-fifths of the total registration.

It could not be learned today what specific act the Mayor committed to incur the ill will of the ninety signers of the petition. The report was freely circulated, however, "that the executive runs things too much to suit himself instead of complying with the wishes of the people."

The petition will be presented again for consideration at the next meeting of the City Council Thursday night, at which time, according to the circulators of the petition, Mayor Blagge is sure to be recalled.

S. P. Freight Train Runs into Interuban Bus.

It was on its Way to Riverside from Ontario.

Claim Made that Brakes of Auto Refused to Work.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, March 9.—One man was instantly killed and three others were seriously injured, one perhaps fatally, when a west-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific struck an interurban bus late this afternoon at Bonview avenue.

B. C. Moon, No. 1532 Pachappa avenue, Riverside, aged 30, sustained a broken neck and crushed skull, dying instantly.

Frank Fuller, 55, Ontario rancher and former railroad man, was painfully cut about the face and his back was badly hurt. Internal injuries are feared. His wife, Mrs. Alice W. Fuller, resides in Los Angeles.

A. H. Johnson, 27, bus driver, was terribly lacerated about the face, chunks of flesh being torn entirely free from his forehead and nose.

Young Skang, 25, who occupied the rear seat of the car with Moon, escaped with scalp wounds and bruises.

Johnson was driving south on Bonview avenue en route from Ontario to Riverside and failed to see the approaching train until practically on the track. Then, he says, his brakes failed to hold and his front wheels crossed the first rail just as the engine struck his machine. The automobile was demolished. Both train and machine were moving slowly, according to Robert Woods of Ontario and Miss Carrie Waters of San Bernardino, who witnessed the accident.

Johnson stated tonight that he was unable to get a good view of the tracks on account of his side curtains being up, but declares he looked at the block signal, which, he says, failed to work. He heard a whistle, but not until the train was upon him.

The train was in charge of Engineer C. L. Ketchum, Fireman J. F. Brady, Conductor H. I. Burton and Brakeman C. F. Bellum.

Inquest over the remains of Moon, who is said to be unmarried, will be held tomorrow at Draper's morgue. The injured are at the San Antonio Hospital, where they were taken by Dr. C. L. Emmons.

Man Secures Judgment for Fifty Thousand Dollars Against a Prominent Rancher Near Visalia, Upon Grounds of Promise Made.

Overstreet in the action brought against the defendant, declared he gave up a lucrative position in St. Louis to come west on the promise by the defendant to give plaintiff a half interest in the Tagus property. He asked damages in the sum of $180,000.

The case was tried three weeks ago, and was submitted by a large array of counsel for both litigants.

Attorneys for the defendant have been quoted as declaring an appeal is to be perfected without delay.

But a Dream.

PHANTOM BULLET ROUSES CHINESE.

TONG WAR REPORT BRINGS OUT SCORE OF POLICEMEN.

After Scouring Every Alley in Oriental Quarter for Bodies of Victims the Officers Find Nothing More Horrible than a White Man Somewhat Intoxicated.

A hurry-up call came from Chinatown to Central Station early last night. Thinking that the much-talked-about tong war had broken out, armed officers jumped into two police automobiles and a patrol wagon and were hurriedly driven to the celestial quarter. Accompanying them were a number of motorcycle men and armed detectives.

With the automobile bells clanging, and the cut-outs on the motorcycles barking, the force dashed into Chinatown to the astonishment of the slant-eyed population, which wondered what it was all about. With hundreds of Chinese lining the sidewalks the policemen made a thorough search of the quarter.

They looked for the man who had sent in the hurry-up call and who had asserted over the telephone that he had heard a shot and that the tong war was on. They couldn't find him. They did, however, discover Joe Wright of No. 156 East Fifth street, and as he was somewhat intoxicated they loaded him into one of the automobiles and took him to Central Station, so their journey was not absolutely fruitless. Wright, in stumbling through Chinatown, fell and struck his head on the pavement. One officer said perhaps it was the noise of the concussion that sounded like a shot to the mysterious man who sent in the telephone call.

OPPOSE BOND ISSUE.

City Claims Water Rights Set Forth by Tejunga Company.

A hearing of the application of the Tejunga Water and Power Company for permission to issue $150,000 in bonds, was held here yesterday morning by State Railroad Commissioner Loveland. Dr. Homer Hansen, manager and principal stockholder in the corporation, appeared for the bond issue and stated that the money required is to be used in improvements that are necessary in order to secure interest on the money already invested.

Los Angeles city officials opposed the request on the ground that the company has merely a shadowy claim to water rights, and that bonds issued by the company might become valueless through a court decision favoring the contention that the waters of Tejunga Creek are the main source and supply of the Los Angeles River, from which the city gets its water. The hearing will be resumed the 23rd inst.

FOR LIFE SAVERS.

Attaches of Y.M.C.A. Organize Red Cross Chapter Here.

Life savers of the Young Men's Christian Association organized a chapter of the American Red Cross last night under the leadership of Emil Schlichtman, chairman of the association's Life-saving Committee.

Free instruction in saving drowning persons is to be given members of the local chapter, and an effort will be made to enroll a large number of members, so that practical aid may be rendered during the swimming season by members of the organization. Dr. Ward Williams, newly-appointed swimming instructor at the Y.M.C.A., will co-operate with the chapter on Friday nights in the pool.

HAS A REMEDY BEEN DISCOVERED FOR T. B.

This what people all over this country are asking Dr. Glass., Mason Bldg., Fourth and Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal. Months ago Dr. Glass made the announcement he had discovered an inhalant that would cure tuberculosis in any stage, where a sufficient amount of vitality was left them to recuperate. People suffering from lung trouble from all parts of the United States and some of the foreign countries wrote for the treatment. Reports from these patients show the big majority of them are improving from the first, and will continue till well. There are also some people again who cry fraud, and go on down to the grave, where if they would only make a little inquiry they would find proof enough from patients who had been treated and cured to warrant them in trying the only treatment ever discovered for reaching the air cells. Can't people see the blood don't enter the air cells at all, and the only possible way to reach them is by inhaling an antiseptic that will allay the inflammation and will not irritate. Some go so far as to say another fraud to rob people of their money. While there are so many frauds—thousands of them, perhaps—who say they can cure tuberculosis, Dr. Glass can't blame people for being a little skeptical, but does blame them for not making inquiry as to whether or not Dr. Glass has made an absolute cure or not. If people will notice, none of these fraudulent remedies use the daily papers and make the positive statement they can cure tuberculosis—why, because they would be denied the use of the mails, also arrested for fraud. So would Dr. Glass, and he would also be denied his license to practice medicine if he was not able to produce positive proof he could do all he claims to do. Some say if he could cure T.B. the world would soon know of it, so 'tis, 'tis pity, pity 'tis' tis so, that thousands will die before a public test of the treatment can be made. Dr. Glass's only desire is to treat people from all climates—charging actual costs of putting out the remedy, to establish positive proof his discovery is the greatest achievement in medicine which will cure 80 per cent. of all pulmonary cases. Further desired information sent on request.

FOLSOM'S FAME.

It hasn't Extended to Antipodes, so When Audacious Australian is Sentenced to Go There it is Necessary to Interpret Court's Order.

James Bradley, convicted of burglary, appeared before Superior Judge Willis for sentence yesterday.

"Be lenient, Your Honor," he said with an impudent cockney dialect. "Be lenient to a good fellow like me."

Judge Willis observed the audacious Australian for a full minute.

"What kind of work do you do?" he inquired.

"I'm a stonecutter, sir, a stonecutter, and a right good one, if I do say it as shouldn't."

"A stonecutter. Well, well. They need stonecutters in Folsom, and I'll give you a twelve months' trial there."

It was necessary to interpret to Mr. Bradley that he had been sentenced to prison for a year.

Naturally.

HE TOOK TO OIL.

Man Who Was Once a Barber Made Millions Out of Petroleum and Now is Able to Come to Southern California in Private Car.

Harry F. Sinclair, who in a few years, rose from the position of a barber to one of the country's foremost oil operators, arrived yesterday in his private car over the Southern Pacific and went to the home of relatives in Beverly Hills. One of Mr. Sinclair's ventures was to back the Federal Baseball League.

He was a barber in Independence, Kan., when the oil boom in Oklahoma broke out. He went to that State, started to buy up leases, developed oil in immense quantities, and it was not many months before he reached the millionaire class. His brother, W. H. Sinclair, president of the Exchange National Bank of Tulsa, has also been visiting Southern California.

PORT ITEMS.

The steamer Yale, arriving from San Francisco today, was an hour late, having made an attempt to tow the steamer Willamette back to port. The Willamette sent out distress calls after having lost her propeller and tail shaft off Santa Barbara. The Yale got a line on the steamer and started for this port. After half an hour at half speed the line parted. As the Willamette was not in danger, the Yale proceeded and the Klamath, which was 180 miles ahead, responded to the call and returned to take her in tow. The Klamath will proceed to San Francisco with the disabled vessel.

The British steamer Engineer of the Harrison line proceeded to San Francisco today, after discharging nearly 600 tons of freight from English ports.

The steamer Wilmington sailed for Eureka today, after discharging a cargo of lumber for Charles Nelson & Co. The steamer Brunswick arrived from Fort Bragg with a cargo of ties for the Southern Pacific.

The little steamer Golden Gate arrived today from Mexican ports and will load freight for return, after discharging Mexican produce.

BROKER ARRESTED.

Real Estate Man Who Figured in a Desert Tragedy Last Year is Charged with Passing Bad Checks Which He has Failed to Explain.

James G. Clark, a local real estate broker, was arrested Thursday by Constable Woodbury on a charge of having passed bad checks. It is alleged that several checks are held against him. According to the arresting officer, Clark has been sought to explain these checks for some time.

In January, 1916, Clark was one of an automobile party that was stranded on the desert en route to the Imperial Valley, resulting in the subsequent death of John H. Welch, prominent local attorney. Mr. Clark survived, after staggering over the sands several miles to a farmhouse. A rescue party reached the stalled machine in time to save James Roach, the third member of the party, but too late to help Attorney Welch.

MAY LINK FRITZEN CAPTURE WITH GERMAN-MEXICAN PLOT.

Mysterious Activities Along the Border of Associates of Alleged Welland Canal Plotter Stir Authorities—More Arrests may be Made.

FACTS collateral to the arrest here early yesterday morning of Capt. Alfred Fritzen for alleged complicity in the Welland Canal dynamite plot indicated last night that an effort will be made to establish a connection between this arrest and the known activities of a group of German sympathizers of Teutonic extraction, some local, but most from the north, which are regarded as highly significant in view of recent revelations of a German plot to embroil this country with Mexico and Japan. It is even broadly hinted that this city may be found to have been the seat of much of the plotting which went forward at the hands of secret agents of the German government looking toward the consummation of the scheme.

A number of these German visitors are declared to have been closely associated with Capt. Fritzen, and a trip which six of them made recently to the Mexican border is being investigated. Particularly are the authorities interested in the whereabouts of one man and one woman, the former repeatedly seen in company with Capt. Fritzen, both in this city and Santa Monica.

While search was being made for the person Capt. Fritzen, a prisoner in the City Jail, was positively identified as the man who has been in retirement at Ocean Park for several weeks. Fritzen was identified by two persons—John N. Blackburn of No. 1137 Second street, Santa Monica, and a young woman whose name is withheld.

ROMANCE COLLAPSES.

With Capt. Fritzen held incommunicado, the supposed romance built around Miss Madelaine Bungener and the German collapsed. It was established, beyond a doubt, that Fritzen is already married and that, while he and Miss Bungener have apparently corresponded, they were not particularly intimate. He [illegible] knowing the girl, and she [illegible] the Federal investigators declared that there was nothing to indicate that the two were sweethearts. It is understood to have been through information furnished by her that he was arrested. A mass of correspondence was seized in rooms occupied by Miss Bungener. Afterward she went into hiding.

[illegible] AS ARCHITECT.

Fritzen or, as he was sometimes known, Piper, was recognized yesterday as a man who has been living at the home of Emil Roedel, No. [illegible] avenue, Ocean Park, where he posed as an architect. Mr. Blackburn, who made the identification, said:

"I went to the home of Emil Roedel on the day following the severance of diplomatic relations between America and Germany, desiring to see Mr. Roedel, then German Consul. After repeated knocking, this man Fritzen answered and told me he did not know where Mr. Roedel was that day. He said that he himself was an architect, just arrived from San Francisco, and had been commissioned to build a house for Mr. Roedel. He declared that he had not heard that the American government had severed diplomatic relations with Germany, but evinced keen interest in the affair and asked what would be done with German representatives here."

The Federal authorities say they also have learned that Fritzen lived at the Roedel house. A woman, living in the same neighborhood as Mr. Roedel, said: "Mr. Fritzen and a woman I supposed to be his wife, Mr. Roedel and his wife and a third man, a German and his wife, lived in the Roedel house for several weeks.

"The unidentified German was always poring over what I think were maps, and sometimes had others in the house, when they would look at these maps or pictures and discuss them. This was sometimes until late at night."

Another visitor of Capt. Fritzen's recently is said by men who met him to closely resemble Baron E. H. von Schack, Vice-Consul of Germany at San Francisco, who was indicted by the Federal grand jury there February 7, 1916, together with Franz Bopp and thirty others of German birth, on a charge of violating the neutrality laws of this country. Von Schack was accused of endeavoring with others to cripple the munitions factories of the American War Department. He was found guilty, fined $10,000 and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. While under sentence other grave charges were made against the German, including arson, sabotage and the destruction of American shipyards, munition plants and like crimes against this government. Pending investigation of these later charges Von Schack is out on bond, together with his alleged co-conspirators.

WHAT SHE SAYS.

Miss Madelaine Bungener, the girl about whom a romance was about to be woven with Fritzen as the central figure, was at a downtown hotel yesterday and gave her explanation of the "romance." "I lived with my mother in Chicago until about six months ago, when I came here. I did a little cabaret singing, but wanted to improve my act. I went to a hotel near Eighth and Hope streets in answer to an advertisement, where I secured a room, paying for the rent by working on the telephone switchboard. Two months ago I had a tryout before an agent here and as a result I secured an engagement at Elsinore. I had been working there until a week ago, when I returned to the city. I foolishly told a friend, just in a jocular way, that I was about to marry a wealthy man, a German. I have always been of a romantic disposition, but I was only joking."

Friends declare that if Miss Bungener met Capt. Fritzen at Elsinore she kept it to herself. Special Agent Blanford denied that the girl was responsible for the apprehension of Fritzen, although admitting that there was a "woman in the case." Detective Fred Boden, another employee of the Department of Justice, stated that a mass of correspondence had been seized, but that there was nothing of an incriminating nature in the letters seized.

Fritzen is one of the most peculiar men ever held in the City Prison.

Culminating early yesterday in the arrest of Capt. Fritzen through his reported friendship for Miss Bungener. According to the government agents and residents of Santa Monica, the suspect had been making his home with former Consul Roedel.

ANONYMOUS LETTER PLACES THE FRITZEN RENDEZVOUS.

AN ANONYMOUS letter, sent to The Times by some one apparently very desirous of concealing his or her own identity, but familiar with the facts concerning the alleged activities of Capt. Alfred (also known as Rudolph) Fritzen and desirous of causing his arrest and that of his associates, may prove an important factor in clearing up local features of the alleged plots.

Based upon information secured through this communication, the first public or private intimation that Fritzen was in Los Angeles was published in The Times January 14 of this year. The shrouded identity of the sender and the fact that the letter gives the address of what the writer mentioned as a rendezvous of Fritzen and his friends are the outstanding clews furnished.

The letter was typewritten in black ribbon by a new machine on a piece of white paper of such length as to suggest that a letterhead had been cut from its top. There was no watermark. The envelope, addressed on the same machine, was postmarked Los Angeles. The letter was undated, but was apparently written about January 7. With the elimination of the address referred to, which is done for obvious reasons, it read:

Rudolph Fritzen, sometimes known as Fritz Pieper, said to be a German spy and much wanted in connection with the Von Papen trial, is in Los Angeles or in this vicinity. During the past ten days or two weeks he has been frequently seen about Los Angeles hotels and restaurants, particularly at the ——— on ——— street, where the Germans congregate. It is understood that he has been trying to foment trouble in Mexico and that he is an expert in the handling of dynamite and other high explosives. He is a man about 5 feet 10 inches tall; weighs about 190 pounds; has a ruddy complexion. Knowing the attitude of The Times in its desire to keep undesirable citizens out of Los Angeles, feel that this tip may be welcome.

Statement by Frank S. Hart.

HIGHLY EDUCATED, CAPT. FRITZEN A RANCH HAND.

FRANK S. HART, head of a local music house and at whose home in Alhambra Capt. Fritzen was arrested, made the following statement yesterday:

In connection with the arrest of Capt. Fritzen I desire to make the following statement:

Some months ago, last September I believe, it was, I went from Los Angeles to my ranch in Antelope Valley. I found there a German who went under the name of Piper, the same man whom the government officers arrested under the name of Capt. Fritzen.

This man was working as a laborer. He had been given employment by my manager about a month previously, without my knowledge. He had represented that he was a German who had been marooned in this country and whose funds were exhausted. He said he was a civilian and never at any time, so far as I have been able to learn, intimated that he had any connection with the German government.

I knew from press accounts that there were a number of German persons in this country who had been unable to return to their country and there was nothing to indicate that his story was untrue. He is a man of superior attainments and I liked him because of his personality and also because of the keen interest he took in my boys.

I told Piper that if the work was too hard for him I would try and give him employment in the city. He said it was too hard, so I gave him a position in my store here.

He worked in this establishment a few weeks and then told me that he would have to return immediately to New York, as he had received a telegram from that city telling him of the dangerous illness of his wife. He left hurriedly.

I neither saw nor heard of him again till last night. I went to my home and found him there, apparently desirous of paying me a social visit. We talked awhile and he went to bed. Early this morning officers went to my home and arrested Piper.

Target of Plot.

WELLAND CANAL'S VITAL TO ALLIED FOOD SUPPLY.

THE Welland Ship Canal is twenty-five miles long, extending from Port Dalhousie on Lake Ontario to Port Colbourne on Lake Erie. The present canal has a depth of fourteen feet, is 142 feet wide at the bottom and 150 at the surface. There are at present twenty-four locks 200 feet long and 45 feet wide. The new canal which is now in course of construction will be approximately the same length, but it will be 200 feet wide at bottom and 310 feet at the surface and will have a depth of 25 feet, which will enable almost any ship that sails the great inland lakes to pass through. There will be seven locks 800 feet long and 80 feet wide for the accommodation of the largest freighters that ply the inland seas. The new canal will cost $50,000,000 and will probably be completed in 1920.

The traffic through the Welland Canal is enormous. Twenty thous-

LONG CHASE IS ENDED BY GERMAN'S ARREST.

Story of Welland Dynamite Plot and of Local Prisoner's Alleged Part.

CAPT. ALFRED (RUDOLPH) FRITZEN, alias Fritz Pieper or Piper, is one of the five persons indicted at New York early in 1916 for alleged conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States by conducting a military expedition into Canada and dynamiting the Welland Canal, a Canadian waterway. Capt. Hans Tauscher, husband of Johanna Gadski, the grand opera singer, and head of the Tauscher Arms Company of New York, and also said to have been the representative in America of the Krupp gun works, was another of the five indicted. He was arrested March 30, 1916, when it was revealed Alfred J. Fritzen was one of the suspects. It was announced Fritzen would be arrested "the next day," but apparently he received a tip of impending trouble, even before the newspapers told of Tauscher's arrest, and he had vanished when the net was ready to close on him.

The Welland Canal plot indictments immediately followed the return to this country of Horst von der Goltz, owner of several aliases, who arrived at New York from England in custody of a Scotland Yard man March 28, 1916. Von der Goltz made a long statement detailing the Welland plot and implicating persons afterwards involved in government action. Chief was Capt. Franz von Papen, who had been military attache of the German Embassy at Washington and had been recalled at the request of the United States government, because of pernicious activities.

VON PAPEN RINGLEADER.

According to the charges originally made against Fritzen, Tauscher and others, Von Papen was the instigator and financier of the plot, but the government specifically charged that August 15, 1914, Tauscher and Fritzen set on foot a military enterprise to be carried on from the United States against Canada, to destroy the Welland Canal, etc.

April 17, 1916, the indictments were returned, naming Von Papen, Tauscher, Fritzen, Constantine Covani and Wolf von Igel, who had been Von Papen's secretary. At the time newspapers carried the statement that "Fritzen is a prominent German whose name has been mentioned frequently in connection with German propaganda."

Details of the Welland plot, as reported by the government's agents, were also laid bare at the time the indictments were returned. It was stated Tauscher had furnished the

OFFICIALS CONFER ON GILA WATER PROJECT.

PLANS for the irrigation of 60,000 acres of land, including the area occupied by the Gila River Indian reservation, were considered here Tuesday at a conference of Federal officials with C. R. Olberg, superintendent of irrigation in the Indian service.

Those who took part in the meeting were J. R. T. Reeves, superintendent of the Gila River Indian reservation; W. H. Reed, chief engineer; John T. Truesdell, special assistant to Atty.-Gen. Gregory, and Mr. Olberg.

Congress has made an appropriation to carry out the project, but the matter of claims arising out of various features of the improvement is to be discussed and determined here. Later on these officials will go to Phoenix, where the preliminary work will be concluded.

The plan is one of the numerous ones of the government to restore to the uses of agriculture the large areas occupied by the Indian tribes of the country, with a view to making the wards of the nation self-supporting. It is believed that in the Gila River project the heretofore arid land will be made very valuable from the standpoint of the farmer, and also assist the Indians to become self-supporting.

The use of the water of the Gila River will not be confined, however, to the land within the reservation, but will be sold to near-by ranchers under an agreement yet to be determined.

ACCEPTS CALL TO SANTA ANA.

Hollywood Minister to Take New Pastorate.

Recent Close of Seven Years' Successful Work.

General News of Local Flocks and Shepherds.

Rev. Lloyd Darsie, for seven years pastor of the First Christian Church of Hollywood, which pastorate he resigned last December, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christian Church at Santa Ana. He will enter upon his new work on April 1.

Several leading churches in the East, including Toronto, Can., and Birmingham, Ala., sought Mr. Darsie's services, but he has made a place for himself not only in the local field but in the larger work of the Evangelizing Board of the Christian church of Southern California, having served as a director for seven years, and he decided that he would remain here.

Mr. Darsie took charge of the Hollywood church when it had only seventy members, and under his pastorate the membership increased to 400, and the present location and church building was secured and paid for. Before coming to California he held important pulpits in Cleveland, Buffalo and Chicago, and he has also served as president of the Ohio and Kentucky State organizations of the Christian church.

The Christian Church at Santa Ana is centrally located, with a modern equipment and a membership of 600. It will install a fine pipe organ during the present year.

Rev. Lloyd Darsie,

Bequests.

LARGE AMOUNT TO CHARITIES.

One-third of Stimson Estate Goes to Institutions.

Must do Nothing Contrary to Orthodox Christianity.

Large Number of Relatives to Share Big Fortune.

Bequests amounting to $108,800 were left to various organizations by the late Charles M. Stimson, who, in making his will January 29, 1916, elected to give to religious and charitable institutions one-third of his estate. The will was filed for probate yesterday on the petition of the German-American Trust and Savings Bank, through Attorneys Thomas C. [illegible]way and William Chambers. Forty-six bequests are enumerated, and at the end of the will Mr. Stimson elucidates his desire to spread the gospel for the purpose of evangelizing Christianity.

While the petition gives the value of the estate as in excess of $10,000, it is believed it will amount to about [illegible]000. Previous to Mr. Stimson's death he gave away large sums for religious work. He died on the 13th ult. The beneficiaries are:

Immanuel Presbyterian Church, $500 for special evangelical work.

Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, $3000, to be used by Rev. D. Gabbott in Thoburn Bible School at Jubbulpore, India, for a new building.

Rev. Emmet F. Hall, secretary of the Home Department of the Pacific Coast, $1000 for a cottage on the ground of the Silliman Institute at Dumagutte, P. I.

Cynthia Clough of Boston, $50 a month during her life; W. F. Cook, private secretary to Mr. Stimson, $500; Mary L. Hegler, niece, of Peoria, Ill., real estate valued at $25,000; heirs of John Stimson, a deceased brother, $25,000 in one-third shares, as follows: Fred M. Stimson, Cincinnati; Arthur M. Stimson, Healing Springs, Va.; Annie S. Evelethe, Little Falls, N. Y.

FOR RELATIVES.

Five heirs of Albert M. Stimson, a deceased brother, $25,000, in equal shares, as follows: Mary L. Stutson of Washington, O.; Clara Simpson of Chicago; Abbie S. Allen of Chicago; Charles O. Stimson of Lafayette, Ind., trustee for his daughter Ruth; Bertha S. Miller of Washington, O., trustee for his son Oliver.

The three children of Martin W. Stimson, deceased: Marion Gordon, wife of Deputy County Counsel Hugh T. Gordon, $8333.33; Ethel Stimson, $8333.33; Marshall Stimson, $7250, and $2000 to his daughters.

George W. Stimson, a brother, of Pasadena, $25,000; Abbie Ingalls, a sister, of Hot Springs, $25,000.

REST FOR CHARITY.

The residue of the estate was bequeathed to George W. Stimson and Abbie Ingalls to be used for benevolent purposes.

The will provides that in case the bequests for charitable institutions do not equal one-third of the estate they shall be increased proportionately to reach that sum.

The further provision is made that "all bequests herein made for religious work for the express purpose of spreading the gospel are intended for the purpose of evangelizing Christianity as held and taught by the evangelical churches of the United States, and no such bequest shall be paid over to any beneficiary except upon a proper receipt expressing the agreement of the recipient to use such fund for that purpose only and to so apply said fund that the money never in any way will be used to foster any doctrine, practice or tenet subversive of or contrary to the fundamental doctrine of orthodox Christianity."

Of the amount given away before his death $100,000 is said to have gone to the Bible Institute.

PIONEER WOMAN ODDLY MISSING.

Goes North to Sail for the Islands; Vanishes.

Jewels Give Rise to Fear of Robbery and Violence.

Son-in-law Asks that Police Institute Search.

Fearing his mother-in-law may be the victim of highway robbers, Joseph Degrasse of No. 1307 West Ninth street, Glendale, yesterday appealed to the Los Angeles police to aid him in finding her. She is Mrs. Martha E. Park, one of the early settlers of Los Angeles. Mrs. Park was to have left San Francisco February 17 for Honolulu, but no trace of her can be found.

As Mrs. Park wears rings and other jewelry valued at several thousands of dollars, it is feared by Mr. Degrasse that she has been waylaid by robbers, her rings stolen, and herself, perhaps, made a victim of violence.

Mrs. Park is one of the well-known pioneer women of Southern California, having come to Los Angeles more than forty years ago. She was the first woman to open a shop in Los Angeles, having established a milliner's store on North Spring street.

She came to Los Angeles by stage, before the railroads had entered the city. She owns considerable property in Glendale and lived at the home of Mr. Degrasse, who is a moving-picture director. It is stated Mrs. Park intended to sail for Honolulu for the purpose of spending the spring in the Hawaiian Islands. There is no clew to her movements since she left Los Angeles February 9.

PASSES UP CHANCE TO MAKE NEW LAW.

SAN FRANCISCO JUDGE FACES NEW LEGAL PROBLEM.

Says Since Supreme Court Hasn't Passed on Question Arising from Old Gold Stock Frauds as Applied to Oil Shares, it Isn't His Duty to do So.

Judge Shortall of San Francisco, sitting in the local courts for Judge Wilbur, had an opportunity to make new law at the close of the suit of the California National Supply Company against the stockholders of the Panama Oil Company, in the hands of a receiver, to recover a claim of $30,000 for material furnished the corporation. But in giving judgment in favor of the supply company he held that, inasmuch as the State Supreme Court had not passed on the question, it was not his duty to do so, and it is expected an appeal will be taken from the judgment.

While there were many important issues raised, the most important was whether or not a creditor who has a constructive knowledge of the affairs and condition of a corporation, can fasten upon the stockholders the liability for the corporation's indebtedness to him. The suit on trial, it was contended, was on all fours with the famous Lookout Mining case, in which a creditor brought suit to compel the stockholders to pay up the unpaid subscriptions to the par value, out of which he sought to have his claim paid. But in those days wildcatting was at its apex and everyone, more or less, took a flier in mining stock, and because of that the creditor knew how unstable stocks were and what chances stockholders took. The Supreme Court refused to hold the stockholders liable. An appeal was taken to the United States Supreme Court, which upheld the decision of the State Court.

The defense in the case before Judge Shortall tried to have him hold that the same proposition was involved as in the Lookout mining case, except that it was oil and oil catting instead of gold. The court did hold the same reasons would apply, but preferred to have the Supreme Court rule on the mooted point. Flint & Jutten represented the California National Supply Company.

SUIT OVER WATER.

Dispute Between Imperial Valley Rancher and Several Companies is Taken to Court Which is Asked to Declare Void Transfer of Canal.

A suit to compel the furnishing of water to his land was filed yesterday by G. D. Ferrell, against the Imperial Irrigation District, Imperial Water Company No. 8 and Imperial Water Company No. 12. The court is asked to declare void a transfer of a portion of the West Side main canal from the Imperial Irrigation District to the two mutual companies. It is alleged that the transfer was without the consent of the Railroad Commission and was made for the purpose of evading the duty of the irrigation district to furnish water on Mr. Ferrell's land, and further to coerce him into paying $25 an acre for the privilege of being allowed to take water for the land.

Mr. Ferrell asks for an order to compel the companies to furnish him with water, the amount of which is to be proportional to the ratio his assessments bear to the total amount of assessments paid.

SUES ON NOTES.

An action was filed in the United States District Court, yesterday, by J. W. Weatherby of Nashville, Tenn., against the Saline Valley Salt Company, to recover approximately $7000, based on a series of notes alleged to have been executed by the defendant, an Arizona corporation, in favor of Weatherby.

WITH the complete major cast of the Los Angeles English Grand Opera Company, a monster benefit is to be given at Clune's Auditorium on the afternoon of March 18, for the benefit of the Jewish War Sufferers' Relief Society. An exceptionally artistic programme has been arranged.

This is to be divided into three sections, each of which will be devoted to a selection from one of three operas, "Faust," "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Martha." Features will be the large chorus and the dancing of Mlle. Prager and Miss Englar.

In the cast are Mme Bernice de Pasquali, Miss Kathleen Lockhart, Mrs. Hortense Jones-Dorr, Roland Paul, Fred G. Ellis, Clarence Norton and Miss Curtyne Englar, with Edward Lebegott conducting and Misses Lorna Gregg and Elsa Fanning at the piano.

The patronesses who are working toward the success of the benefit are Mmes. H. W. Frank, Berthold Baruch, Benjamin Goldman, S. G. Marshutz, P. A. Newmark, Leo Keller, James Hellman, Jules Kauffman, John Kahn, Alexander Meyer, Edgar F. Magnin, S. Hecht, I. Meyers, Ellis Brokaw, Henry Klein, E. S. Lauer, Alfred May, J. B. Jacobs, Julius Salmonson, Irving Hellman, Albert Prenzlaur, Joseph Zuckerman and A. Corenson, Jr. It is also announced that Mrs. Zuckerman will sing.

Today is tag day for the benefit of the Jewish war sufferers, auxiliary to the big benefit of next Sunday. Those interested will make a house-to-house canvass of the residence districts with the tags which spell relief for those who are suffering across the Atlantic.

Plotter Caught.

Admitting he was formerly a naval commander in the German navy, he positively denied that he is a spy and asserted that he has never been connected with any plot against this government. He stated that he had nothing to do with the attempted destruction of the Welland Canal, with alleged violations of neutrality, or with the abortive effort to embroil this country with Mexico and Japan.

MAN OF MANY PARTS.

However, he is declared to have posed here as a laborer, a salesman, an architect, a tourist, a millionaire and a man about town. He frequented a cafe patronized exclusively by Germans until after the diplomatic crisis, when he moved to the beach. He has on many occasions posed as a poor man and at others has spent money with a lavish hand. In this city he was regarded as a single man of considerable means, while at Santa Monica he was looked on as a steady-going married man of artistic temperament.

Although he has been in Cuba and Mexico, at many points along the border and in and out of this city, he declared in jail yesterday that he was merely amusing himself and that his trip to the south was merely because of the strained relations, and he thought a German would be safer in Cuba or Mexico than in the United States.

Federal investigators were busy last evening, and it was intimated that additional arrests may be made, possibly today. Various points along the Mexican border are under observation in an effort to capture Germans who are believed to have been engaged in the international plot.

Special Agent Blanford of the Department of Justice stated that the situation is of so grave a nature that he had received specific instructions not to give out any information, even the most trivial, until the ends of justice had been attained. As a result he last evening refused to discuss any phase of the arrest of Fritzen or the hunt for his alleged accomplices.

Advices from New York state that Capt. Fritzen will probably be returned there for trial.

Declaring he is the godson of Hamilton Fish, well-known multimillionaire and philanthropist of New York, and that he is the son of former State Senator Wray of New York, a youth who gives his name as H. F. Wray is in a cell in the City Jail, under suspicion of having issued bad checks.

Wray is booked at Central Station as being 23 years of age. He was arrested by E. E. Ross of the Nick Harris Detective Agency, yesterday at Third street and Broadway. He had no money at the time of his arrest.

He explained his alleged attempt to pass a check by saying he is out of work and he had no money and became desperate. He stated yesterday he expected money from the East, which had not yet arrived.

MARY GARDEN TO BREAK FILM-LAND ICE IN "THAIS."

By Grace Kingsley.

What posterity won't know about grand opera and our grand opera stars of 1917, A.D., won't be the fault of Thomas A. Edison, inventor of talking and motion-picture machines. Already we have had Farrar in "Carmen," both aurally and visibly, by the above means, besides lesser lights in lesser productions of the sort.

Now it is Mary Garden who is to be recorded by the Goldwyn Pictures Company, and, according to wire received from said company yesterday, the picture play in which the great diva will make her film debut will be none other than a visualization of "Thais," the rights for which have just been purchased from Anatole France.

The selection of "Thais" as Miss Garden's first starring vehicle is said to be due to the result of a referendum conducted by her managers in pictures theaters, wherein 64,000 letters were received by Miss Garden in three weeks, most of them demanding to see her in a picture version of her great opera success.

Mary Now a Film.

A lovely young woman who will henceforth devote herself to the celluloids is Miss Mary Bullock, daughter of Mrs. Georgia Bullock, well-known woman attorney and lately judge of the Woman's Court in this city. Miss Mary is a very pretty young woman, who has long been popular in amateur and high school theatricals in Pasadena, where she lives. She has just joined the Fine Arts forces at Hollywood.

Preparedness Note.

Sympathizing with the "Amazons" in England who are being detailed to service in the army, and with Miss Margaret Edwards, the Los Angeles girl who is at the head of the cocoanut grove revue in New York, who has herself established a physical culture class among the coryphees of said revue, our own Burbank chorus girls in Mr. Weightman's aggregation of beauty and talent have organized a class to practice target shooting and to learn how to care for the sick and injured in case of war.

The Burbank chorus, by the way, has been increased in numbers in order fittingly to aid in presenting Charles McAlphin's "The Revue of 1917," which goes on tomorrow and which promises to be exceedingly beautiful and spectacular, as well as tuneful.

"On Trial" a Film.

"On Trial" is to be put into picture by the Essanay Company at its Chicago studios.

Full-fledged Playwright.

Frances Nordstrom, who has been at the Orpheum with William Pinkham, her husband, was delighted yesterday to receive word that Al Woods had accepted a regular play from her pen and will star Henry E. Dixey in it. Miss Nordstrom has written many sketches, but this is her first play.

Coals to Newcastle.

Following a luncheon at the Alexandria today, a party of twelve persons from the Fox film forces will occupy three loges at the matinee performance of "A Daughter of the Gods" at Clune's Auditorium. Included in the party who will be the guests of Abraham Carlos, western manager for William Fox, the producer of the film spectacle, who is now here on a visit, will be Mr. Carlos's daughter, Gertrude, Mr. Fox's daughter, Mona, and the child actors who are playing the leads in the big Fox production entitled "Jack and the Beanstalk," now in the making at the local studio. These children are Francis Carpenter, Virginia and Ruth Corbin, Violet Radcliffe, Carmen de Rue and Adele Farnum, daughter of William Farnum. The youngsters will be chaperoned by their mothers.

Back to "Magic Ring."

May Wirth, the clever bareback rider with the Wirth family at Pantages this week, is to be one of the star attractions of Ringling Bros. circus this coming summer. The Wirths will leave the Pantages circuit at Ogden in about three weeks for Chicago, where they will get up their circus act.

Parnassus Note.

Vaudeville's brow is growing constantly more altitudinous.

Count Tolstoy, the son of the eminent Russian of that name, has been booked by the Orpheum for a fifteen-minute lecture on his father's life and works. Nothing, it seems, is too odd or strange for vaudeville.

Want to See Her Film.

"War Brides," with Nazimova in the title role, made into a picture drama, and to be presented at the Majestic, commencing tomorrow, is attracting widespread interest. Naturally much of this arises from the fact that when the playlet of the same name and theme was at the Orpheum, thousands saw it, and are anxious to view the screen version, as well as being eager again to see the matchless actress in the big role.

Drink to Maudie.

All Maudie Fulton's Los Angeles friends are sending her telegrams of congratulation this week. Her play "The Brat" went on in New York, last Monday night, and according to reports received from Manager Morosco, the play has taken New York by storm.

Just Praise Note.

Miss Leitzel, the clever little acrobat at the Orpheum this week, went out to see Charlie Chaplin, the other day. Mr. Chaplin finished a scene and was introduced, but did not know the young woman was at the Orpheum. There was one particular scene in which Charlie had to do some acrobatic stuff with his arms. The two discussed the scene, and Miss Leitzel showed Chaplin some arm movements both graceful and effective.

"Thanks" said the comedian. "Do you know, young woman, I believe with practice you will make a very good athlete."

"Much obliged," said Miss Leitzel, not explaining.

And next day Charlie went to the Orpheum and recognized the young woman performing her wonderful act on the rings.

He scribbled her a little note: "The dinner is on me!"

MUSICAL NOTES.

The last opportunity for music-lovers to hear Melba, the famous lyric soprano, this season, will be this afternoon at Trinity Auditorium. The programme will be entirely different from that presented last week. In answer to a number of requests, Mme. Melba will sing two English songs, "John Anderson, My John," and Tosti's "Good-by."

Archibald Sessions will be accompanist, also playing the organ in the prayer from "Othello." Antonio de Grassi, the violinist, and Jay Plowe, flutist, will also assist on the programme.

Winifred Hooke Recital.

Interesting among the musical events scheduled for the lenten season will be the piano recital which Winifred Hooke of London will give this evening at Blanchard Hall. The event is under the management of F. W. Blanchard, and Axel Simonsen, the violoncellist, will assist Miss Hooke. The special feature of the programme, and one which will be of notable interest to the musicians of the city, as well as to every lover of music, will be the Debussy sonata for 'cello and piano.

Verna Mercereau,

Who is doing a clever Egyptian dance act at Pantages, and Genevieve Lamond in the Burbank's musical show, "The Flirting Princess." Miss Mercereau is not troubled with the high cost of transporting stage costumes, as the box she has in her hand holds one complete costume for her act. (At least the P. A. says so.)

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) The statement of the Federal Reserve Board regarding loans abroad made a distinctly favorable impression on the New York Stock Exchange; this, with other constructive factors, particularly optimistic industrial reports from Pittsburgh, made the market strong and active. Gains in international bonds were recorded, United Kingdom issues especially showing strength. Domestic issues were irregular on weakness in Erles.

(Abroad:) The first subscription to the sixth German war loan was for 10,000,000 marks, it is announced by the Overseas News Agency. The subscriber was the Continental Caoutchouc and Gutta Percha Company of Hanover.

MAD ABOUT NOTHING!

Because his wife pinched him and stuck pins in him to keep him awake after his day's work, a San Francisco man has applied for a divorce on the ground of cruelty. Some men are ridiculously sensitive. A fellow like that doesn't deserve a loving wife.

THEY ARE RIGHT.

San Diego women decry the use of Old Glory in motion-picture houses to bolster up a cheap performance. It is questionable whether the flag should be used to bolster up anything excepting "the spirit of '76." As to waving a flag in order to attract people to a bad show, it is an unthinkable crime.

RECONSTRUCTION.

One of America's greatest churchmen, in a recent address in Los Angeles, voiced his opinion that "A period of reconstruction along every line of civilization, such as the world has never seen, will follow the close of the present war." This is what the world is hoping and trying to believe. Were it not for this faith the future would look dark indeed.

WHERE THE BLAME WILL REST.

Whether Japan received the Zimmermann plot letter or not, and whether Mexico invited or entertained it or not, it is beyond all question not only that Germany sent it, but that she has since defended and justified the sending of it. This fact and the menace of unrestricted submarine warfare compel the United States to arm its merchant ships. The arming of them may result in the destruction by them of German submarines, and such destruction may result in open and proclaimed war between Germany and the United States.

Even so, the blame of the quarrel will rest upon Germany alone. She alone is responsible for any eventualities and for any action the United States may consider it necessary to take.

A TEARING OUTRAGE.

For a wife to tear up her marriage certificate and throw the pieces in her husband's face does not operate ipso facto as a divorce and does not furnish evidence on which a divorce can be obtained. Unless accompanied by cuss words which inflict mental anguish, it is not "extreme cruelty"—except to the certificate. It is not infidelity, for the tearing of the certificate does not tear up the marriage obligation. It is not intemperance, for it is intemperance in the use of booze and not temperamental intemperance of temper that is contemplated by the statute.

Nor will it—as was decided by Judge Woods on Monday last—relieve the husband from his obligation to pay alimony pending the hearing of a divorce suit, although the act of tearing up the certificate was brouillerie non captatio benevolentiae?

NOT A FAIR DEAL.

The Interstate Commerce Commission did not act fairly toward the merchants of the country when, by its order of January 1, 1917, it shifted the inconveniences and cost resulting from car shortage upon the shoulders of the mercantile community.

Hitherto the railroads allowed shippers a period of forty-eight hours free of charge in which to load a car, and consignees a similar period in which to unload the same, and if a car was detained beyond that time, a demurrage charge of $1 per day was made for every day or fraction thereof that the car was detained. By the order of January 1, 1917, the Interstate Commerce Commission granted the railroads the right to increase the demurrage charge to $2 for the first day, $3 for the second day and $5 for each additional day. This is unfair to the merchants and the customers who purchase their goods.

WELD MEANT, ANYWAY.

One hundred and one motor-car manufacturers have offered their plants to the nation for operation in case of war.

Say, what's the matter with these people, anyway? Don't they think that this nation would have trouble enough, if it got into war, without trying to run the output of one hundred and one automobile factories? We are a person of average intelligence, and it takes most of our time, and all of our money, to operate one twin two of a famous and peaceful make. The intellect sinks appalled in contemplation of the spectacle that would be presented by the citizen soldiery of this country struggling with the output of one hundred and one automobile factories, as said soldiery tried to get to the front via such output.

Of course, it would have one advantage; it would necessitate a department of gas; and even Messers. La Follette, Works, et al. might be useful there.

TRADE WILL COME.

Many citizens who took advantage of Harbor Day to visit our port are doubtless wondering where the trade is coming from that will cram the six-story warehouse with merchandise and load several transpacific liners at a time at the long transit shed, instead of the one seen there Tuesday.

But if we compare our own tributary territory with that which supports the greatest of New England ports, and look ahead for thirty years, we will find an amount of business that will equal that now done by Boston, the chief harbor and distributing point of the northeast coast of the United States. The combined area of the New England States, 62,000 square miles, is less than one-half the size of our own State, while Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island together are equivalent in area to our coastal plain from San Luis Obispo to the Mexican line. These three States contain four-fifths of the population of the entire New England States, although comprising less than one-fourth of their area. The climate and soil of this section are not highly favorable to crop production and it is deficient in the important minerals for industrial use.

Thus it will be seen that the natural conditions of this district have been unfavorable; yet it has become a great manufacturing and commercial center. Raw materials are brought from long distances and the trade of Boston Harbor is largely in collecting the materials for manufacturing and in distributing the manufactured products. Although flour milling, meat packing and the steel industry have now passed largely to the more Western States, the presence of a large number of trained hands, of extensive plants and the sheer pluck of the people have kept this region in the ranks of the great industrial and commercial communities of the country.

As to our own port, the agricultural resources of the southern half of this State are at least equal to those of New England, while its mineral resources are much greater. In addition, the agricultural and mineral resources of all of Arizona and parts of Nevada, Utah and Colorado will naturally flow toward our harbor. The centers of production for copper, wool, hides, etc., are now closer to us than to the New England mills and manufactories. The cotton which the Northeastern States must import we raise within our own borders. One-third of the imports of the United States is composed of rubber and other tropical products, produced by the countries facing the Pacific. The Panama Canal will greatly increase intercoastal trade, as soon as war ceases.

Already Seattle and San Francisco are overtaking Boston in trade. In a region where "Nature Helps Industry Most" is our own port of Los Angeles more than thirty years behind the port of Boston, where nature hinders rather than helps.

A PATRIOTIC SUGGESTION.

In this "government of the people, by the people, for the people," it is the duty of the humblest citizen equally with that of the highest official to promptly and publicly and fearlessly express his opinions as to the action of President Wilson in suspending diplomatic relations with Germany and in proposing to arm our merchant ships to resist the attacks which Germany, in its declaration of January 31, 1917, threatens to make upon this country.

The civic, religious, commercial and other organizations of the country should be the mouthpieces of the American people for this purpose. One cannot converse with men and women of all classes and descriptions in their homes, their places of business and their social gatherings without coming to the conclusion that the sentiment of the American people is sound and patriotic, and merely waits a proper time and a proper method to express its approval of the action taken by President Wilson on the present issue before the country. It may not be controverted that he has exhausted the resources of diplomacy in an effort to avert the war which Germany, in her desperation, seems determined to force upon us, and that to submit to her aggressions and consent to having our commerce driven from the ocean by her submarines would be to forfeit our national self-respect.

Ex-Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson suggests the adoption by chambers of commerce and other organizations of resolutions to the effect that war with Germany will not ensue unless the imperial German government knowingly violates well-settled principles of international law, and violates them with intent definitely hostile to the United States. In that event war will inevitably follow, not by our own act, but through the deliberate aggression of another nation. If any honest doubt exists respecting the cause of war in Europe, the awful responsibility for extending it to this hemisphere will rest upon Germany and upon Germany alone.

It is not impossible that the disgraceful filibustering in the Senate by La Follette and his coadjutors, coupled with editorial expressions from a few German-American journals, and many hyphenated recreants to their oaths of naturalization, may have misinformed the German government respecting the temper of the people of the United States. If so, and before fatal action based upon so grave a mistake is taken, Germany should be made aware of the essential unity of our people and of their loyal determination to make all sacrifices necessary to maintain our honor and protect the freedom of the seas which we have enjoyed without dispute for a hundred years.

To this end Mr. Stimson urges that all groups of citizens, secular and religious, large and small—societies, clubs and institutions of every sort—unite in giving immediate public expression to the following convictions:

First—That the act of the Executive in severing diplomatic relations with Germany is one to be approved and commended by all who have the best interests of the United States at heart.

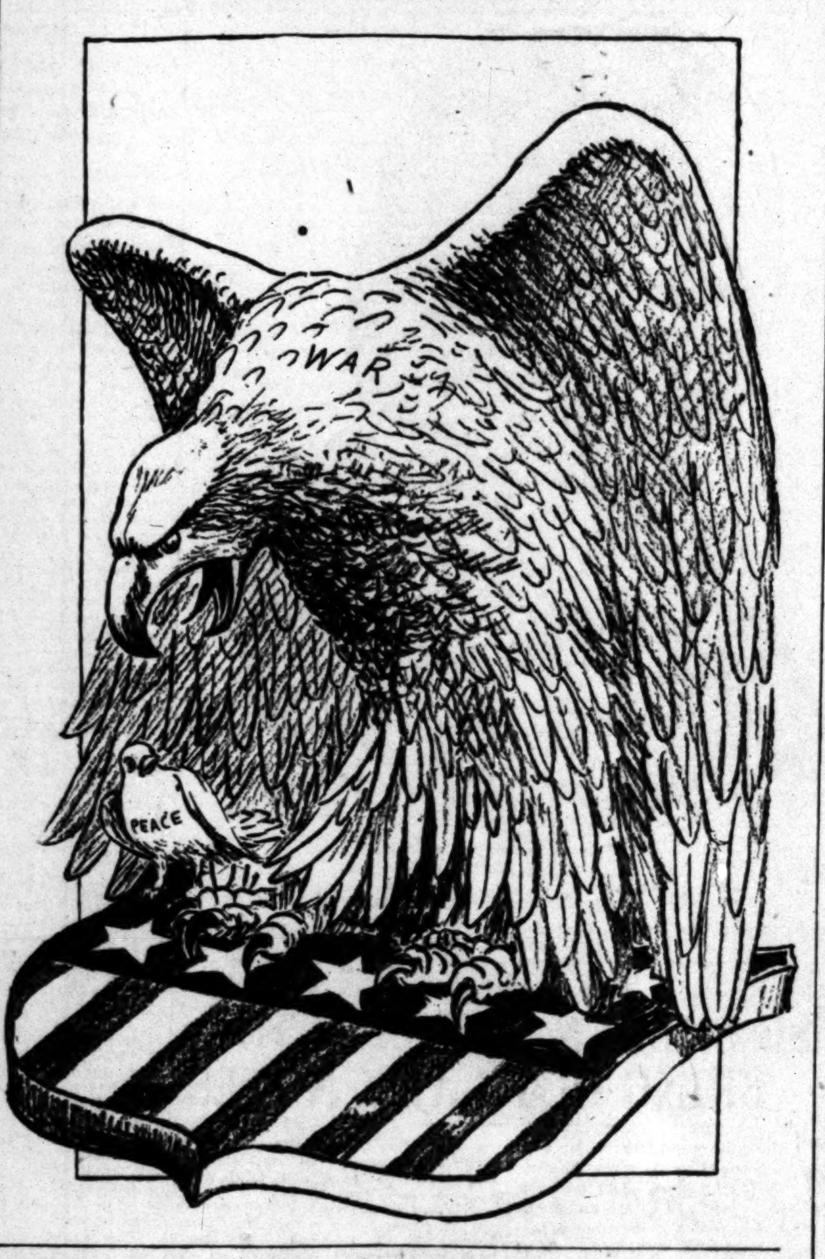
Second—That the German declaration of January 31, 1917, represents an unjustified and unjustifiable attempt to destroy the freedom of the sea and to abridge the commercial liberty guaranteed to us by established law and custom; and that if the government of the United States were to acquiesce therein such action would be resented by all good citizens as in the highest degree pusillanimous and as altogether inconsistent with the spirit and traditions of a free people.

Third—That the President will be justified in recommending to Congress the most extreme measures that may be deemed necessary to protect life, liberty and property; and that it is our duty and that of all loyal citizens to tender immediately to the government all the service of which we severally and collectively are capable.

Fourth—That while all should stand ready to volunteer if voluntary service is called for; yet Congress, in providing for our common safety, should not adopt emergency measures merely, but should definitely recognize the principle that the duty of defending the nation rests equally upon all citizens capable of service. To the end, therefore, that the burden of safeguarding the country should no longer be cast exclusively upon the loyal National Guard and upon other patriotic military and naval volunteers, Congress should be urged to exercise its constitutional power "to raise and support armies" by establishing immediately a permanent and democratic system of defense, based upon universal service and training, under direct and exclusive Federal control.

The Times heartily approves of these suggestions, and urges our Chamber of Commerce, our Common Council and the boards of supervisors of our southern counties to act upon them.

"Don't Crowd!"



SPIES AND SEDITION.

The arrest of Capt. Alfred Fritzen in Los Angeles as a spy suspect is significant. The Federal secret service had good reasons to be suspicious of him or it would not have put Capt. Fritzen in jail. If he is innocent, as he claims, it is unfortunate that he cannot plausibly explain his mysterious journeys around the country or why an inoffensive man would need two or three aliases. But if he really is innocent, no harm will be done to him; and it is better to hold guiltless men for investigation than to allow one member of the Bopp gang to be at large in these trying days.

The Bopp revelations showed that German officials in the United States, aided by residents and naturalized citizens, had formed plots to destroy American lives and property; and Fritzen is suspected of being a member of that gang. He admits that he has served twenty years in Germany's navy; that he has recently been in Cuba and in Mexico, where Germany's machinations have stirred up trouble; and his angry protestations of innocence ill become one who has found it necessary to use the names of "Piper" and "Kruge" in addition to that of Fritzen.

Our secret service employs no publicity agents and does not take the public into its confidence until the time is opportune. It is reasonable to suppose that the secret service has more reasons than have been made known for nabbing Fritzen and holding him. German suspects have been arrested, and are being arrested daily in many cities. After the Bopp disclosures the country realized that vigilance was necessary to our safety, and day after day further come disclosures showing that right here in Los Angeles are people giving voice to seditious and violently disloyal utterances. It is well to watch them, and to watch them closely.

This is indeed an hour for vigilance—an hour when the Secret Service Department is entitled to encouragement and assistance. Reptilian traitors of one kind and another, spies and conspirators are loose on every hand, cunningly devising ways and means to embarrass our government and aid a foe whose hands are stained with the blood of American women and children. Seditious writers and speakers, too, give seditious pen and voice free play. They utter condemnations of the United States and its officials and fill their phrases with sinister threats. They need watching. Right here in Los Angeles they need watching.

If Fritzen is not so innocent as he claims, then it is reasonable to suppose that he came here with confederates and assistants. If he is one of the Bopp group—then there are others of that infamous gang in Los Angeles, and the sooner they are put into jail the better it will be for the safety of the country. Guard well and strike quickly! Don't let the snake sting first!

WOMAN SOLDIERS.

A London dispatch to The Times announces that England has taken a step in an Amazonian direction by organizing a Women's Auxiliary Corps, not at present to engage in actual fighting, but to do the hard and dirty work of the camps, so as to release the lords of creation to perform the nobler duty of shooting and being shot at. The men soldiers call these new recruits Amazons.

The Amazons are represented in Greek legends as a race of women who lived in the northeast of Asia Minor, near the shore of the Black Sea, and as there having formed an independent state with a queen at its head. Their occupation was hunting and war. Their arms were the bow, spear and ax. They wore their dresses girt high for speed, close fitting trousers and a high cap. They fought partly on foot, partly on horseback, and always without quarter. To maintain their stock, annual visits were paid to the neighboring peoples; and when, in consequence of this, children were born, the males were either sent over the borders or retained and brought up crippled, and in the condition of slaves, while the female children were assiduously trained to hunting and war.

In order to have freedom in the use of the bow, the right breast of an Amazon was removed by burning and other processes or was checked in its growth; hence the ancient derivation of the name Amazon from a-mazos, "breastless."

They were good fighters, were these ladies. It took a Bellerophon (Belly ruffian?) to whip them, and the Amazonian state did not collapse until Achilles himself undertook the job, killed the queen, and cried over her remains. With her death and the end of the Amazonian state women ceased to be soldiers and, although the use of a composition of nitre and charcoal was used in China when Christ was born, gunpowder did not come into use in England until the reign of Elizabeth. Since then soldiers have discontinued the use of spears and bows and laid off their iron armor and have fought with guns.

There appears to be no good reason why, for the last 200 years, unmarried women might not have participated more or less actively in the great wars of the world. A woman can ride a horse or point and discharge a gun as well as a man, and endure the fatigue of marching and the discomfort of sleeping in trenches almost as well.

The women of England of today claim not merely the right of suffrage, but the right to suffer, for 30,000 British maidens have volunteered for service in the field. And, as Rudyard Kipling might say if The Times poet had not said it first:—

"Oh, woman in our hours of ease,
Uncertain, coy and hard to please,
When sounds the high Dutch trumpet tone
And their stink pots come smelling on,
Each woman's heart within her bust
Throbs 'If men won't fight, why then I must.'"

THE BOOK-KEEPING OF M'ADOO.

There is a deficit in the Federal treasury of $37,000,000, although by Secretary McAdoo's hocus pocus system of book-keeping it is not shown. If the national banks adopted the same system and the bank examiners did their duty, the Federal jails would be crowded with bank officials incarcerated for fraudulent book-keeping.

Another McAdooism was to misapply $12,535,000 received from the government of Greece for the sale of two battleships. The act that authorized the sale provided that the money received for them must be expended in the construction of a great dreadnaught, which has not yet been built, although the money is gone.

DINING ON BATTLEFIELD.

[James H. Ware in Leslie's.]

We left Chalons in a fast military motor car, and passed through Clermont soon afterward, stopping for a few minutes to see the destruction that the Germans perpetrated there in the early days of the war, burning the houses of the inhabitants. Unlike towns destroyed by shell fire, where nothing but masses of bricks and mortar lay in confused heaps, here the burned walls stood as mute monuments to the frightfulness of the enemy.

We arrived at the headquarters of a general commanding a division and after paying a call were about to leave when the enemy began bombarding. The general suggested that we had better stay to lunch, but thanking him, we remarked that we had taken the precaution to bring some lunch with us. However, he exercised his authority and we accepted his invitation, with a feeling that he was solicitous for our safety.

We certainly were safer inside the dug-out. The room itself was made up of sections of iron or steel, made in the U. S. A., corrugated to give strength to it. It comes in shape of an arc of a circle and can be bolted together on the plan of a sectional bookcase. These steel huts can be placed in the open and filled in on the outside with earth, making them practically bombproof and warm. Water cannot seep through, and, as they can be painted inside they are made very comfortable and sightly.

There were communicating rooms for the members of the general's staff, for the official work, private apartments for the general, and a dining-room with table accommodation for a dozen people or more. The dining-room measured three yards across; the walls were painted white, a good-sized clock and a mirror were among the decorations. Electric lights were suspended from the ceiling, and flowers from Nice were in a vase on the table. A dinner of several courses was served.

I wondered as I partook of the sumptuous repast, whether it was the general's regular mess, or whether he had not "spread" himself on our account. But it would be bad taste to ask your friend at home when he is entertaining you whether that were his usual mode of living, and I could not see that I would be justified in doing so on this occasion.

But never for a moment was the business of fighting allowed to be interrupted, and reports were constantly brought to the Chief of Staff, who had to hurry to the telephone, usually advising the general of the result of his orders on returning to the table.

"It looks as though they were going to attack again," he remarked, rather to my amusement, as I had not noticed that they had ceased at all. Once a captain suggested that he thought he would order less firing for a time, and so conserve their shells, but this did not meet with the approval of the general, who remarked, "Oh, no, keep on at the same rate," which showed me very plainly that he was keeping in close touch with all the movements.

After paying our adieux to our host, we soon found ourselves on a splendid road, thirty feet wide, which has been built right through the forest of Argonne. This, in peace times, would have been quite a formidable undertaking, but being constructed during the war it is little short of marvelous.

CHIPS FROM OTHER BLOCKHEADS.

Citizen: I see we have ordered a new airplane for our army. Secretary of War: Why, I thought we had one.—[Life.

Wife: I was outspoken in my sentiments at the club today. Husband: I can't believe it! Who outspoke you?—[Town Topics.

Wise: Did Miss Swift bury her past? Guy: Yes; but her friend dug it up and performed an autopsy over it.—[Town Topics.

Bilkins: Home, they say, is the dearest place on earth. Wilkins: Yes; that's why we quit housekeeping and went to board.—[Boston Transcript.

Ethel: How many times do you make a young man propose before you say yes? Muriel: If you have to make him propose you'd better say yes the first time.—[Puck.

The Host: I thought of sending some of these cigars out to the front. The Victim: Good idea! But how can you make certain that the Germans will get them?—[Tit-Bits.

"Please hurry," said the wife impatiently to her husband. "Have you never buttoned a dress behind before?" "No," replied her husband, "You never had a dress that buttoned before behind."—[Exchange.

Ernest: Now, Mary, it's only fair for me to tell you that I'm a somnambulist. Mary: That's all right, dear. We'll take it in turns. I'll go to your chapel with you one Sunday, and you can come to my church the next.—[The Sketch.

The Mother: Oh, dear! Fighting again, Charlie? Such a black eye! If only you'd follow the lead of the minister's little boy— The Hopeful: I did try to follow his lead, but he led again with his left and that's how he biffed me.—[Puck.

"Bliggins is a little annoying in manner, but his heart is in the right place." "Yes," objected Miss Cayenne, "but you can't be expected to perform a surgical operation on every disagreeable person to ascertain where his heart is."—[Washington Star.

Mount Guns on Railway Cars.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat:] The ordnance department of the army is about to test a new 4.7-inch gun which has been designed to be mounted on a railway car. The gun carriage is so constructed that the piece will revolve on a platform.

If the experiments prove successful it is anticipated that guns of this type will be made of larger calibers and that they will be employed to supplement our coast defenses.

One place in which such guns would be of special value is the Canal Zone. By building spurs from the Panama Canal railroad it will be possible to cover practically the entire zone with this easily transported means of defense.

COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

BY FREDERIC L. HUIDEKOPER,

Author of the Military Unpreparedness of the United States; Vice-President of the National Security League; Founder of the Army League.

NATIONAL defense has become a burning question and, as was to be expected, has strong supporters and equally strong opponents. The latter, who include many of the pacifists, argue that compulsory military service is contrary to American traditions and practice and subversive of American institutions. Such an argument is absolutely fallacious and shows that these people do not know American history. Five occurrences are sufficient to disprove absolutely their arguments.

In 1777 Virginia and Massachusetts set the example for the other colonies by drafting men into the military service. This method met the approval of Washington, who recommended it to the president of Pennsylvania as the only certain way of obtaining troops.

On May 8, 1792, there went into effect an organic law by which the militia, mentioned but not defined by the Constitution, was first ordered to be enrolled and the members thereof to hold themselves in readiness to appear properly "armed, accoutered and provided, when called out to exercise or into service."

In other words, compulsory military service was inaugurated and this law stood on the statute books until it was repealed by "the Dick bill" on January 21, 1903.

Throughout his tenure of the Presidency Jefferson laid particular stress upon the organization of a citizen soldiery, which he suggested should be raised to 300,000 and classified.

In his letter of June 19, 1813, to James Monroe, he declared that the existing state of affairs "proves more forcibly the necessity of obliging every citizen to be a soldier. This was the case with the Greeks and Romans and must be that of every free State. Where there is no oppression there will be no pauper hirelings. We must train and classify the whole of our male citizens, and make military instruction a regular part of collegiate education. We can never be safe till this is done." (4) Beginning with 1862 the Confederacy instituted a system of compulsory military service embracing all able-bodied white males between the ages of 18 and 35; and (5) on March 3, 1863, President Lincoln approved the Enrollment Act, better known as "the draft law," which was subsequently amended by the laws of February 24, 1864, and March 3, 1865, whereby the Union resorted to obligatory military service after complete failure to secure the necessary troops by voluntary enlistment.

Giuseppe Mazzini, one of the liberators of modern Italy, very aptly declared that "the origin of every right is in a duty fulfilled."

If, therefore, we are to be entitled to the right to demand that our government protect our lives, liberties and property, we must fulfill our duty toward that government, and no principle is more in keeping with a republican form of government, no doctrine is more truly democratic, than that which asserts that every able-bodied male citizen owes military service to his country. Indeed, the principle of compulsory military service is no more a violation of the policy and traditions of the American people than is the payment of taxes under compulsion or compulsory education. Moreover, such a system is the sole method by which a nation can put forth its full strength in time of war. Most Americans do not apparently realize that the voluntary system is more unfair and uncertain in its results than any other military system, for the reason that it permits selfishness and shirking, and many a man is enabled to escape service just because some other man with greater patriotism voluntarily performs the duty which ought to be exacted of all alike.

The voluntary system which the nation has followed ever since 1775 is composed of two kinds of forces—one, the Regular Army, and the other a force of militia or volunteers. Our own history affords abundant proofs that, in the absence of compulsion or special inducements, men will invariably enlist in the organization most lax in discipline—in other words, not in the Regular Army. That is one reason why, at the outbreak of war, it has always been impossible to recruit the Regular Army up to its proper strength. Indeed, the same conditions exist at this very time.

Apart from being the most ineffective of military systems, the voluntary system is not only the most undemocratic, but the most plutocratic, because men are paid for the work which they voluntarily undertake and which they ought to be obligated to perform in the defense of their country. Moreover, it throws upon the men who volunteer a burden and a duty which ought to be shared by the entire manhood of the nation. Yet this is the system which we Americans, with all our loud professions of democracy, have followed ever since 1775.

Under a proper system of compulsory training and service, every man is required to do his share—the high and the low, the rich and the poor alike, become defenders of the country in time of need. This is not only the most democratic military system thus far devised, but it is the only one by which a nation can act as a unit in time of war.

England was the last great nation to abandon the voluntary system. With such a potent object lesson staring us in the face, are we Americans going to repeat her blunder and cling to the voluntary system which cannot, and never has, stood the stress of a great war?

Do you know that Villa has never been seen since the Columbus raid by any American who had known him in the flesh? What has become of the picturesque rascal? He is becoming more and more of a myth.

RESERVE BOARD'S STAND ON LOANS AIDS MARKET.

Constructive Developments Contribute to Strength and Activity of Wall Street Trading — Industrial News from Pittsburgh Also Upward Factor in Day's Dealings—Gains in International Bonds.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Various constructive developments contributed to the strength and activity of today's market, in which rails shared, though to a limited extent. Foremost among the accelerating factors was the statement of the Federal Reserve Board, which revealed a more friendly attitude regarding American investments in foreign loans.

Of little less importance was the news from Pittsburg and other industrial centers reporting additional advances in prices of fabricated steel and iron to highest quotations ever known in the trade.

Today's maximum quotations for United States Steel and some other leaders represented the best prices in over a month. Steel was steadily accumulated from the outset, making an extreme gain of 2⅛ points at 112⅞. Other industrials of the same class were higher by 1 to 2⅛ points.

The motor group was more active than at any recent period, General Motors scoring an over-night gain of 6⅝ points at 120⅝. Coppers supplemented recent advances, American Smelting making the greatest gain.

Shippings, utilities and fertilizers gained 1 to 5 points on moderate dealings.

Trading in rails was relatively light, but mainly at higher prices, with gains of 1 to 1⅞ points for Pacifics, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Chicago and Northwestern. Total sales, 765,000 shares.

Gains in international bonds on a heavy turn-over ranged from a fraction to 1⅞ points, greatest strength being shown by United Kingdom issues. Domestic bonds were irregular on weakness in Eries. Total sales, par value, $4,850,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

HEAVIER TRADING ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

BROKERS LOOKING FOR BIG BULL MOVEMENT.

Union Oil in Strong Demand. Associated in Better Shape. Goodspring Issues Attract Attention in Metals Group—Home Common Declines.

Trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange increased considerably in volume and indications were not lacking that the apathy of the public had at last been broken. Local professional opinion has for some time been predicting that a big bull movement would start shortly which would carry values to new high levels, once the timidity of the public had been dissipated. Practically all the leaders on the exchange are selling at bargain prices and it would not take much of an upward swing to double values of a number of the mining issues. Union Oil Friday was in strong demand and prices paid for the security held steady around 130.50. Associated was in better shape at 71.75 and General Petroleum was traded in off board at 71.50. In the metals group the Goodsprings issues attracted attention, Boss selling in larger amounts in the morning at 1.36 to 1.43 and Yellow Pine registering a substantial gain at 1.52½ to 1.53. Big Jim was firm at 1.30 and there was the usual amount of activity in the miscellaneous Oatman list. Lucky Boy showed weakness when the quotation for the same dropped to 8½, but there was not very much stock transferred at that figure.

About the only discouraging feature to yesterday's meeting was the decline in Home Telephone common, which sold down with each sale to a low of 51.00 at the close. Small holders evidently are tired of waiting for the merger to take effect and are no longer willing to pack the stock. Los Angeles Investment gained fractionally at 76, although there was nothing in the day's developments to arouse comment.

HALT IN EXPORT DEMAND HOLDS UP WHEAT BULLS.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Halting of export demand today acted as more than an offset for the bullish effects of diminished farm reserves. The market closed heavy ⅞ to 2½ net lower, with May at 1.87½ to 1.87¾ and July at 1.56½ to 1.56⅝. Corn gained ⅛ to ⅝, oats finished unchanged to ⅛ down, and provisions irregular, ranging from 12 decline to a rise of 5.

Although some leading traders contended that the government report of farm reserves had put the wheat market on a purely domestic basis, the bullish influence of the report did not last beyond the first half of the day.

On the late trading longs in wheat were further discouraged owing to advaices that the Liverpool Steamship Owners' Association declared the food control measures so far taken by the British government had failed. Support for prices here largely disappeared and final quotations were at almost the lowest point of the day.

Corn advanced to new high levels but reacted to some extent when wheat turned weak. The bullish nature of the government report as to farm reserves of corn was the chief source of strength.

Provisions average lower in consequence of announcements that the British government had taken control of all the lard and bacon in the United Kingdom and would hereafter fix prices. The market here gave no evidence that any shipping business was being done.

Dun's Review.

BUSINESS LARGE, DESPITE BIG DETERRENT FACTORS.

NEW YORK, March 9.—Tomorrow Dun's Review will say:

"A certain hesitation in business, with shrinkage in its volume, is natural at this season; and there is now all the more reason for it because of present disturbing elements. Yet the volume of transactions is greater than usual at this period and the position of commerce and industry remains remarkably strong notwithstanding the foreign complications, transportation delays and doubts about future supplies and prices. Recent storms and cold hindered efforts to relieve the freight congestion and overseas shipments continue difficult and uncertain, but domestic movements of raw materials and products are freer and there is somewhat less restraint on manufacturing activities. Outputs in many directions, however, have appreciably diminished, and inability to make adequate progress in reducing accumulated contracts still prevents the acceptane of considerable new business. Weekly bank clearings, $5,059,563,022."

PRICES GIVEN BOOST BY SHORT COVERING.

TWENTY-ONE-POINT ADVANCE IS RECORDED FOR DAY.

Fluctuations Irregular in Early Trading Owing to Continued Nervousness Over the Export Outlook, but Offerings are Light. Close is Steady.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 9.—Prices on the Cotton Exchange advanced today on a renewal of covering by near-month shorts and despite unfavorable reports regarding the ocean-freight situation, May contracts, which Thursday sold down to 17.40, advanced to 17.74, or 28 points above the previous day's closing figures. Realizing caused reactions of 8 to 10 points, but the closing was steady, showing net advances of 6 to 21 points for the day.

In the early trading price fluctuations were irregular owing to the continued nervousness over the export outlook, but offerings were light. The apprehension of the near-month shorts also was increased by reports of further sales from the local stock, which is gradually moving out; and, after opening 9 to 13 points higher, the market sold about 17 to 28 points above Thursday's closing figures, during the middle of the day. The advance was then checked by profit-taking and later movements were irregular.

The trade was interested in the report from New Orleans that the British government had withdrawn permits for shipments of cotton to Norway and Sweden. The unfavorable view of the ocean-freight situation was promoted by London advices quoting Sir Edward Carson's remarks with reference to the seriousness of the submarine menace.

HIGH WOOL PRICES SLOWING DEMAND.

BOSTON, March 9.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow::

"The failure of Congress to make appropriations for military cloth had a restraining influence upon the wool markets this week and speculative buying was at a low ebb, although manufacturers took a moderate quantity of wool at firm prices. News from the West indicates a material decrease in contracting operations, prices having now reached a level which eastern buyers are unwilling to meet. Manufacturers are generally occupied on old contracts and are receiving a modest volume of new business."

How the President Plans to Meet German Menace

Germany's supreme affront to the United States is contained in the amazing document of the German Foreign Minister, Dr. Zimmermann, addrest, through Count von Bernstorff to German Minister von Eckhardt, in Mexico City. In this communication Germany proposes that Mexico shall join with Japan in warring upon the United States and "reconquer" Mexico's "lost territory in New Mexico, Texas and Arizona."

In the San Antonio Light, published in Texas, one of the States to be "reconquered" by Mexico, we read that "the people of Texas view with complacency the cold-blooded proposition by Germany that the State should become Mexican territory provided Mexico joins Germany and Japan in a war against the United States. They have no fear that such a thing will happen to them. They know that even though left entirely to their own resources, they will be able to avoid compulsory Mexican citizenship. It is conceivable that enormous Japanese and German armies advancing through Mexico might, for a time, occupy Texas, but Mexico would gain no population thereby. It can be asserted with quiet modesty and simple truth that when Texas had been overrun such Texans as were still living would be beyond or on the border fighting their way home."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for March 10th, the leading article covers with a wealth of detail all the facts concerning the torpedoing of the Laconia, the paralysis of our overseas commerce by Germany's U-boat threats, and the revelation of her amazing plot to embroil us with Mexico and Japan.

"The Digest" Appeals to All Sorts and Conditions of Men

"There are as many view-points," says the Roman poet, "as there are men," and our modern civilization has not tended to alter the essential truth of this old-world epigram. In this country particularly has liberty of thought been fostered, so that every man and woman has an individual opinion upon the burning questions of the day in politics, art, religion, science, social matters, and so forth. Is there, then, in the multiplicity of periodicals published continually all over the land one upon which they can all combine as representative and unbiased? Yes—THE LITERARY DIGEST. This foremost of all news-magazines gives all sides of all the great issues in every department of life, quoting from newspapers and magazines of every shade of belief with absolute impartiality. It expresses no opinions of its own, leaving you to form your own conclusions. Try reading a copy today and test this for yourself.

HOTEL LOAN'S TWO MILLIONS.

Financier Straus is Here to Complete the Merger.

Maryland and Green will be Given New Wings.

Fifteen Bungalows Addition to the Huntington.

Full confirmation of the telegraphic announcement in yesterday's Times of the completion of a tremendous deal by which one of

S. W. Straus,

Head of the New York banking-house which is financing the amalgamation of the Green, Huntington and Maryland hotels.

Gotham's greatest banking and bond houses has agreed to finance the amalgamation of the Green, Huntington and Maryland hotels in Pasadena under one control and direction was given last night by S. W. Straus, president of S. W. Straus & Co. of New York, the financial institution which has undertaken to float the enormous bond issue involved in the momentous transaction, and who is a guest at the Huntington.

The merger is declared to be probably the largest hotel combination the country has ever known. The three properties are stated by those interested in the deal to have a total value of over $4,000,000. The amount of the loan negotiated with the Straus interests is given at $2,000,000 and the rate of interest at 6 per cent. per annum. The security is on the land, buildings and equipment. The mortgagor is the California Hotel Company, which was incorporated several days ago, with D. M. Linnard, J. H. Schenck and F. P. Flint named as incorporators. Mr. Linnard, who is the present manager of the three hotels, becomes the president of the corporation.

The three owners entering into the merger plan are H. E. Huntington, Col. G. G. Green and D. M. Linnard, the latter as head of the stock company owning the Maryland. The bonds are to be issued under a plan followed by the Straus company, providing for annual serial reductions and making the bonds redeemable before maturity at a fixed premium. The Federal income tax will be paid by the borrowing corporation. S. W. Straus, as head of the bonding company, will act in the capacity of trustee.

The deal will permit of extensive enlargements to all three hotels, and Myron Hunt, architect of the Huntington and of the recent additions and alterations to the Maryland, is understood to have already made tentative sketches looking to this end. The Maryland, which now has 360 rooms, will, according to the plans as now being worked out, have a new addition of 100 rooms. The Huntington, which has 350 rooms, is to have its capacity increased by the erection of fifteen bungalows on the hotel grounds for guests. The Green, with 340 rooms, is to be made larger by the extension of one of the wings.

Mr. Straus, as head of the large financial house which bears his name, has repeatedly affirmed his personal confidence and the confidence of the eastern financiers identified with him in the banking and bonding business in the future of Southern California. Within recent months S. W. Straus & Co., through arrangements made by Mr. Straus in person, concluded a big loan on a modern, fireproof hostelry in the Westlake district of this city, the first deal of the kind made by the eastern house in this section. The consummation of the huge Pasadena transaction is not, therefore, the first evidence that the spoken words of the New York banker actually reflect his sound inner judgment.

AND THE FAIRMOUNT.

It was announced yesterday that the great San Francisco hotel, the Fairmount, had been linked with the Pasadena interests and that Mr. Linnard is to become the manager of the Fairmount, beginning May 1. Mrs. Oelrichs, the owner, has released the hotel to the Palace Hotel Company of San Francisco with the provision that Mr. Linnard is to be the manager. He will, of course, retain his residence in Pasadena and will put one of his assistants in charge of the Fairmount.

ABRAMS IS FREED.

No New Evidence is Secured to Justify Another Trial.

Max Abrams, convicted of arson and then given a new trial, was released from jail yesterday when the District Attorney's office dismissed the case against him for lack of evidence. The Supreme Court reversed the first conviction on that ground and no new evidence was secured to warrant further trial.

Max Abrams and his wife were arrested October 20, 1915, and charged with having fired their home to collect money from an insurance company. The charge against Mrs. Abrams was dropped at once. Since then she has ceaselessly worked to secure the freedom of her husband.

Target of Plot.

and ships pass the locks each year representing over 50,000,000 tons net register and the value of the freight is far in excess of $1,000,000,000, while over 70,000 passengers yearly pass through. While no recent figures are available, as high as 100,000,000 bushels of wheat have passed through the canal in a single year en route to seaboard for export abroad.

Practically all of the American wheat that is shipped for export through the great Canadian ports of Montreal and Quebec passes through the Welland Canal, coming from Duluth or Chicago by way of the lakes. This being true, its immense strategic importance to Great Britain and her allies is evident. In adition to wheat, corn and other raw materials, the saving of freight charges has been the cause of much of the manufactured products that originate at Chicago for European shipment being sent over this route while the lakes are open to navigation.

The canal was started in 1824 and completed in 1833 and is now being enlarged the second time. It is one of the most important traffic arteries in the Canadian Dominions and the government has spent upward to $100,000,000 on its original construction and subsequent enlargement.

It has been one of the most important factors in the commerce between the United States, Canada and Europe. By reason of the all water route by which grain from Duluth and Chicago can be shipped to Europe it has been a decided factor in the rate-making calculations of both American and Canadian railways. A cargo of grain can be loaded at Duluth, carried up Lake Superior to the Soo Canal, down the river to Lake Huron, then to Lake Erie, up Lake Erie to the Welland Canal to Lake Ontario, and direct from Montreal or Quebec to the European ports, for considerably less than the same wheat could be shipped direct to New York by rail and there loaded for Europe.

This route with its cheap freight rate has greatly affected New York, which was at one time the great grain shipping center. When the enlargement now in the course of construction is completed it is estimated that the volume of traffic will be trebled. With this end in view great grain elevators, rivaling in equipment and capacity those of Chicago and Duluth are being constructed, it being the Canadian government's idea to practically monopolize the handling of American grain for export.

WIFE GONE; CONFESSES.

Man Charged with Assaulting Patrolman Disrupts Plans of Defense when He asks to be Sent to Prison, Saying He Prefers Jail to Liberty.

A husband who would rather be in prison, he asserted, than wifeless and at liberty, disrupted the efforts of his counsel, Attorneys Scherer and Guthrie, Thursday when he unexpectedly pleaded guilty and asked to be sentenced to prison. He his Elecco Tiscareno, charged with having assaulted Police Sergeant Halloweli, November 27 last, in a struggle at Vignes and Commercial streets.

Until recently Tiscareno was actively concerned in the defense of the charges. Then he showed an indifference. He arose in Superior Judge Willis's court and changed his plea to guilty.

Tiscareno's attorneys, unprepared for the startling action of their client, learned then that his wife had failed to communicate with him, and friends had told the prisoner she had left the city. Feeling it was not worth while to be free, if he could not be with his wife, Tiscareno stated he decided to plead guilty. Sentence will be imposed the 16th inst.

TWO MILES OF PAVING.

FULLERTON, March 8.—Details of a plan to spend $22,000 in paving about two miles of East Orangethorpe avenue, from Spadra avenue to Placentia avenue, became known today. It is planned to raise the road district's share of the expense by a bond issue.

Horrors!

DICE CLICK IN LAW'S SANCTUM

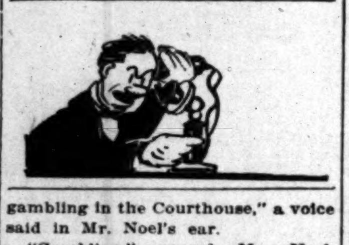
Requisition for "Bones" and Box Startles Officials.

Superior Court Clerk Taken to Task Forthwith.

But then, He Uses the Cubes Only to Set Cases.

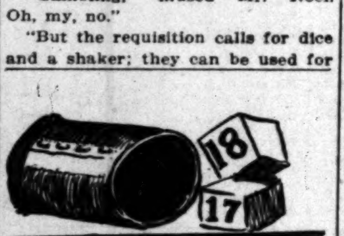
A requisition for a pair of dice and a shaker by James Noel, secretary of the Superior Court, caused consternation in the office of the Board of Supervisors yesterday and caused a stern order for telephonic communication with Mr. Noel.

"What's the meaning of this requisition for dice? There can be no gambling in the Courthouse," a voice said in Mr. Noel's ear.



"Gambling," mused Mr. Noel. Oh, my, no."

"But the requisition calls for dice and a shaker; they can be used for only one purpose," insisted the voice.



"Oh, but we are not going to gamble with them; that is, we won't shoot craps with them. You see," he continued, brightening, "they will be used for a judicial purpose, to determine whether Department 17 or Department 18 shall get certain criminal cases."

"What have dice got to do with setting cases?"

"You see, the order was for blank dice; I number them 18 and 17, and we shake them, and if 18 comes up the case goes to that department, and if 17, why the case goes there. My no, it's not a game, just a fair way of setting cases for the criminal courts so it can't be said any favoritism is being shown."

"Well, it sounds fishy."

"I am telling you the truth; come down and you can shake the dice yourself."

But as it was a young woman on the wire she retorted:

"Thank you, I don't gamble!"

BOSWELL ON BAIL.

George C. Boswell, active in minor politics, was released from the County Jail yesterday under $1000 bail after he had remained behind the bars all night. He was charged with having failed to provide $5 per week, as instructed by the court, for the support of his six-year-old son, who is ill.

Today.

ORANGE DAY PROGRAMME TO OPEN BIG FOOD SHOW.

ALL is ready for the opening of the fourth annual pure food show of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association, this afternoon, with a celebration of Orange Day. However, the formal opening will not be held until this evening, when Mayor Woodman will deliver an address and several other prominent persons will give short talks.

Manager Neal P. Olsen has all entries signed up for the show and has prepared a full programme, only minor details being left for daily assignment.

The baby show and the cooking school will not begin until Monday, as today will be given over entirely to the Orange Day programme, which will be staged under the auspices of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and the direction of Mrs. Lelia Hann Mead of the Westlake Fine Arts Club, who will present a playlet entitled "When California was Young." An orange ballet will be featured in this, all under the direction of Mrs. B. F. Parks.

The Fruit Growers' Exchange has decorated the whole show in orange colors, and fruit, and will serve orange juice, which they hope to popularize into a national drink.

A large number of resplendent booths have been built and decorated by the exhibitors, of whom there are about 100. The food products of Southern California will all be represented and many of the eastern manufacturers have sent exhibits to be shown here.

A motion-picture theater to show the production of foodstuffs will be operated day and evening and a number of manufacturers have sent reels of film and many slides. This feature of the entertainment is under the direction of R. L. Daly.

The show occupies an entire floor of the old Robinson Building, the main entrance being at No. 234-42 South Hill street. A passageway connecting two great halls has been cut through the dividing wall and the show may be seen in one long promenade.

In Trust.

SEEK INHERITANCE TAX ON LUMBERMAN'S ESTATE.

THE bulk of the $1,000,000 estate of the late Albert M. Murphy, the lumber king, who had a home in Pasadena, is tied up in a trust agreement executed in Michigan. The trustees are John H. Emmert and Elbridge M. Murphy, the latter a son of the deceased. In its quest for money, the State, in Judge Rives's court yesterday, examined the trustees in an effort to ascertain the amount of the personal property in order to fix the inheritance tax, Mr. Murphy having resided in California and the law holding that the personal property follows the place of residence.

Under the will, the widow, Mrs. Emma S. Murphy, was given the home place at No. 909 South Madison street, Pasadena. Money is also to be supplied to furnish Mrs. Addie N. Broughton of Long Island with a residence. The widow is to be paid $3500 annually until she remarries and a similar amount was given to Mrs. Broughton.

Two trust funds of $50,000 each, it developed, were created to run until 1935, the income from which is to be paid to Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Broughton. At their deaths the sums go to the children, who also receive the residue of the estate. The children are Blanche, Elbridge, Walter M., Burdette D., Albert S., Clarence R. and Donald M. Murphy and Bessie D. Hickey and Alice S. Spencer.

At the hearing yesterday, the State was represented by Robert A. Waring, John W. Carrigan and Edwin H. Pennock. E. E. Millikin and A. L. Rowland represented the trustees and executors.

Long Chase Ended.

dynamite, about 150 pounds in all, and it had been packed in suit cases and in that way carried on a railway train to Niagara Falls by Von der Goltz, Fritzen, Covani, Carl Tuschendler and Joachim Busz. When the party arrived at Niagara Falls, it was reported, Von der Goltz discovered the Welland Canal was too well guarded to warrant proceeding with the plot, and it was abandoned. The total cost of the operations was fixed at about $1200, of which sum $600 was given to Von der Goltz, and other items represented the cost of the dynamite and the railroad fares.

From the time of the Tauscher arrest, two weeks before indictments were returned, nothing was seen of Fritzen.

The fates of others of the coterie varied. Capt. Tauscher was tried and June 30, 1916, was acquitted in a Federal Court of the charge of conspiracy to violate neutrality. He admitted he sold the dynamite, as charged, at the request of an agent of Von Papen, but denied he know the explosive was to be used for the destruction of Canadian property. He is now on his way to Germany with Count von Bernstorff.

Wolf von Igel was arrested April 18, 1916, the day after the return of the indictments, and papers in his New York office were seized by agents of the Department of Justice. This caused a diplomatic snarl, as the then German Ambassador, Von Bernstorff, declared Von Igel was an attache of the Embassy, and therefore had diplomatic immunity from arrest. Return of the seized papers was demanded. Secretary of State Lansing asked the Department of Justice to release Von Igel. This action was opposed by the United States District Attorney at New York and it was announced Von Igel would be prosecuted. Mr. Lansing conferred with the President and then decided to return "virtually all" the seized Von Igel papers to Von Bernstroff. Two days later, April 25, Assistant United States District Attorney Wood of New York stated he had examined, among the papers seized in Von Igel's office, only those that related to the Welland conspiracy. Von Igel was not brought to trial and is now, also, on his way to Germany with Von Bernstorff.

As to the other members of the alleged dynamite ring, Von Papen was sent back to Germany and the whereabouts of Covani are unknown.

When Franz Bopp, one-time Consul-General for Germany at San Francisco, was tried on a charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States—the trial that led to his conviction—an attempt was made in court last December to connect Von Papen and his clique with the Bopp dynamite plots. To this Bopp opposed an unbroken front, admitting Von Papen was in San Francisco at the time of some of the acts that led to the conviction, but stating the military attache's visit was for recreation only.

Before his alleged war activities Fritzen was manager of a German sailors' home in Hoboken.

THE RABBIS' TOPICS.

At the 10:30 o'clock service this morning Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin will speak on "Esther—the Woman." The Purim party given by the Temple Sisterhood for the children of the religious school will be held this evening at the Gamut Clubhouse, Hope street, between Tenth and Eleventh. A one-act play, "A Rainy Day," will be presented, and there will be dancing after the play.

At Synagogue Sinai, Twelfth and Valencia streets, last night, Dr. David L. Liknaitz spoke on "A Leader's Wrath," and at the 9:30 o'clock service this morning his subject will be "What will the Goyim Say?"

NEW EVIDENCE?

Unwonted Activities of Federal Agents Start Fresh Rumors.

The presence of several unidentified visitors in the offices of the Department of Justice yesterday and the hurried arrival of two Hindu interpreters, as well as a Japanese interpreter, led to reports that new evidence in the German plot to enlist Mexico against us had been uncovered.

For several hours the several interpreters were closeted with Agents Blanford and Boden. For more than a month the government agents in every large city have been assembling the names of loyal Americans who have lived abroad and who are familiar with foreign languages and when translations of great importance are needed several disinterested interpreters are used.

TWO PAY DAYS WILL BE EXPENSIVE.

EFFICIENCY MAN FIGURES THE ADDITIONAL COST.

Would Burden Taxpayers with More than Twelve Thousand Dollars and Cause no End of Work. Police and Fire Departments Only Ones to Insist on Plan.

Efficiency Director Burks yesterday reported to the Mayor that if the ordinance passed Wednesday by the Council requiring two pay days each month for all city employees is enforced the cost will be approximately $12,000.

"There is practically no clamor for the doubling of pay days except from the fire and police departments," said Mr. Burks. "The ordinance fixes the 1st and 15th of each month as the pay days. These dates must be changed if it is expected to carry out the plan. It will be impossible to pay the employees up to the 15th, but they could be paid to the 10th of each month. The pay days should be at least five days after given dates to be included in the stipend."

Mr. Burks said it takes two days for Auditor Anderson of the waterworks to sign the pay checks for that department, and if the new ordinance is enforced it will take four days each month for him to attach his signature to the warrants.

Mayor Woodman took the report of Mr. Burks under advisement, and the matter may again be considered by the Council.

Several months ago the people voted in favor of permitting the Council to change the pay days, but did not make it compulsory.

DELAY IS FAVORED.

BOULEVARD PLAN HELD UP.

While members of the Council yesterday declared they are not opposed to the ambitious plan of encircling the city with a beautiful boulevard system, they refused to adopt a resolution approving the project.

"I feel that the plan is a good one and would be of great benefit to the city," said Councilman Wheeler, "but the matter involves the expenditure of several millions of dollars, and I do not think we should act hastily." Other members agreed with him, and the question was referred to the Council as a committee of the whole.

Protest Against Park.

Citizens owning, it is said, about 90 per cent. of the property frontage in the proposed assessment district, yesterday filed a protest against the proposed purchase of several lots in Hollywood, near the Women's Club House, for a public park. The protestants will be heard March 21.

Delay Billboard Action.

Councilmen Wheeler, Langdon and Wright declared yesterday they are not in favor of hasty action in connection with the proposed new billboard ordinance. They said it is only fair to give the opposition time to make a thorough investigation and report to the Council. Ninety days has been given for this work, and it is not likely that the time will be reduced, notwithstanding the statement of the City Attorney that the delay is unnecessary.

Money for Fire Escapes.

Normal Hill Center is to be fully equipped with fire escapes, the Council having instructed the Board of Public Works yesterday to make the improvement. The fire escapes will cost $1400. The work will be done by the Pacific Coast Ornamental Iron Company.

For Better Sanitation.

The City Attorney was instructed by the Council yesterday to give an opinion as to the legal status of a proposed ordinance for the regulation of the making of mattresses, pillows and bed clothing. The Health Commission contemplates a measure that will make more sanitary bedroom equipment.

Undertaker Finally Wins.

Undertaker W. A. Brown has apparently won his long drawn-out fight to have his place of business at No. 1335 South Flower street included in the undertaker's zone. The Council yesterday instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance including Mr. Brown's property.

Will Help Entertain.

The City Council yesterday voted to assist the Chamber of Commerce in the entertainment of the Congressional Committee that is due to arrive here tomorrow for an inspection of the sites offered for a submarine station and aviation base at the harbor. The Council indicated its willingness to help defray the expenses and do anything else required of it.

City Hall Briefs.

Another hearing was granted by the Council to the persons who are opposed to the establishing of an undertaker's zone at North Broadway and Workman street. The hearing is to be held on the 15th inst.

The Council makes no distinction in the sexes of the canine family. Yesterday it fixed the license fee at $2 for any old kind of a dog. Heretofore it has been $1 for a male and $2 for a female.

The Board of Public Works yesterday recommended to the Council that it purchase a motor truck for the Street Resurfacing Bureau. It was stated a truck is needed for emergency pavement repairs.

Wife Admits Using Hands, Nails and Teeth on Spouse, but Claims it was Justified by His Habit of Going into Seclusion, Following Family Spats.

Cochran C. Patterson of Long Beach evidently believed in the adage: "If you fight and run away you will live to fight another day." But be this as it may, Mrs. Relda Patterson, admitting to Judge Wood yesterday, in Mr. Patterson's suit for divorce, that she used her hands, nails and teeth on him, said she objected to his habit of disappearing after every quarrel.

"Whenever we would have any little quarrels," she said, "he used to leave and go to a little cabin he kept near town."

As there were no witnesses to the family rows the court denied the decree.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SUIT DISMISSED. Presiding Judge Houser yesterday signed an order dismissing the $75,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Mrs. Francis M. Howarth against Dennis and Eliza Ward Howarth, the parents of her husband, William D. Howarth. A demurrer to her complaint was sutained last October by Judge Jackson and ten days given in which to amend the complaint, but no further steps were taken to press the suit. The order to dismiss was presented by Attorney Charles H. Tribit, Jr.

WANT HOUSE CLOSED. Dist.-Atty. Woolwine asks to close the premises at No. 803 Hemlock street, in a petition filed yesterday under the provisions of the Redlight Abatement Act. The petition states that the owner of the premises has not been ascertained and the action is against the alleged lessee, Jessie Knowles, and Lucile Walker, Ruth Jackson and Dorothy Roberts, who are said to be tenants. It is alleged that the three last named were arrested by the police last Wednesday and deposited $100 bail each to answer charges of vagrancy.

INCORPORATIONS. The Paper Warehouse Company, incorporators H. C. Meisel, C. W. Hills and C. T. Keister, capital stock $25,000, subscribed $300; Franks Gem Company, incorporators Frank Blumpkin, Barny Sofsky and Charles A. Ban, capital stock $3000, subscribed $3.

TO PROTECT WATERSHED.

National Forest Workmen Begin Construction of Firebreaks.

Two crews of workmen, headed by Forest Rangers Marks and Dorr, yesterday began the work of constructing a number of firebreaks in the Arroyo Seco in the Angeles National Forest Reserve, with a view to increasing the protection of the Pasadena watershed.

The work will be completed about June 1, at a cost of about $1500, and it will protect an area of about twenty miles. Improvement of the various forest trails will also be done in connection with the work on the firebreaks.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Brig.-Gen. Joseph E. Kuhn, president of the Army War College, until recently was the American military attache at Berlin, declared in an address here tonight the annual dinner of the alumni West Point that "the German are on the edge of starvation" and "Germany is prepared to certain terms of peace and to go a way to get them."

"How long will the war last?" exclaimed Gen. Kuhn. "This question frequently asked. I answer, I do not know. It would seem as if the must soon tell and that some of the principal nations would
